Supporting UNC Softball

The University of North Carolina has a long-term agreement with Nike, which provides UNC teams with shoes, apparel, equipment bags and other products.

The contract, signed in 1994 and again in 1999, was extended for a period of 10 more years beginning in July 2009.

In addition to Nike products, the agreement provides $100,000 annually to the Chancellor's Academic Enhancement Fund for undergraduate teaching. It also provides $100,000 annually to the UNC athletic department to reward Olympic sport programs and coaches for academic and athletic excellence.

OFFENSE

North Carolina finished in the top five of the ACC in on base percentage (.380) runs scored (271) and runs batted in (250) and will look to improve this season with the top four batters returning. Jenna Kelly is back for her senior season after finishing last year second on the team in batting average and slugging percentage, and third in home runs. Aquilla Mateen looks to continue to wreak havoc in the batters' box and on the base paths after leading Carolina in batting and stolen bases in 2014. Amber Parrish paced the Tar Heels with 15 home runs and a .627 slugging percentage. Kristen Brown continues to improve each year after posting 12 home runs and 45 RBIs in 2014. The Tar Heels also return some key hitters from last year, including seniors Kati Causey and Lauren Walker, and have some added firepower coming from the 2015 freshmen class.

PITCHING AND CATCHING

The Tar Heels lost Lori Spingola to graduation after she stamped her name all over the UNC record books. The 2015 pitching staff is one filled with youth, energy and two righty-lefty combinations. Kendra Lynch and Lauren Fuller are the only returning Tar Heels in the circle. Both had limited innings with Fuller returning from back surgery and Lynch coming on strong late in the season. The two are eager to lead the staff this year. New additions to the pitching staff – freshmen Kaylee Carlson and Sydney Matzko – will be looked upon to contribute immediately. Carlson was named a MaxPreps First Team All-American in 2014 and a four year all-state selection in her high school career. Matzko led her high school team to 70-9 record over four years and was a three time all-state selection. The youth on the mound will be anchored by seniors behind the plate in Kati Causey and Amber Parrish whom did the bulk of the catching last year with 215 putouts. The catching staff depth is further strengthened with the return of sophomore Jillian Ferraro.

DEFENSE

The Tar Heels return seven defensive starters and will work hard to lead the ACC in fielding percentage after finishing third last season at .973. With the addition of 3 newcomers outside of the circle and the return of some proven players with the talent to play multiple positions, the lineup options are endless. The Tar Heels claim an experienced infield with senior All-ACC and First Team All-Southeast Region Jenna Kelly at first base and All-ACC Amber Parrish behind the plate along with junior All-ACC shortstop Kristen Brown leading the way. Wrapping up the returnees, are senior Lauren Walker (1B/DP), juniors Erin Satterfield (2B/3B) and Elena Covert (2B), and sophomore Darby Rosen (3B) all whom have made a huge impact in the lineup. Newcomers Taylor Wike (SS/2B) and Katelyn Shifflett (UT) have already made a name for themselves this fall with regard to their work ethic, which in return provides depth, competition, and stability to an already proven solid defensive front. In the outfield, junior All-ACC centerfielder Aquilla Mateen leads the way in the grass along with returnees Jordan Scarboro (RS Sr.), Elly Wagner (Jr.), Tracy Chandless (Jr.), Dani Garcielita (Fr.), and Kendra Lynch (So.) when not in the pitching circle. All in all, a strong group that will be called upon to shore up the last line of defense.

CAROLINA SOFTBALL

COACHING STAFF

Donna J. Papa, the NFCA Hall of Fame head softball coach at North Carolina since 1986, has helped build Carolina softball into one of the top programs in the country. Papa's Tar Heels continue to show improvement each season. Papa has led Carolina to the NCAA Tournament in 11 of the last 14 years and guided the Tar Heels to a school record for wins as Carolina went 50-12-1 in 2008 - hosting the first ever NCAA Regional at Anderson Stadium. UNC has had winning seasons 15 of the last 16 years, with 11 of those including 40 or more wins during the campaign.

Under her tutelage, Carolina has established itself as a perennial top-25 program, testimony that North Carolina competes at the highest levels on the field while excelling academically at one of the nation's top universities. On Nov. 30, 2012, Coach Papa was inducted into the National Fastpitch Coaches Association Hall of Fame. She was joined by former Palomar head coach Mark Eldridge and Oklahoma head coach Patty Gasso, and the trio was inducted at the 2012 NFCA Convention in Orlando, Fla.

Papa won her 1,000th career game during the 2011 season and did so in grand fashion as the Tar Heels blanked Florida State 4-0 on March 27. The milestone victory for Papa also marked the Tar Heels' first ever sweep of the Seminoles. Only 11 NCAA Division I coaches have ever achieved 1,000 victories.

One of the 20 winningest coaches in NCAA history, Papa joined the 900-win club Feb. 20, 2009, in a victory over Cal State-Fullerton. In her remarkable 31-year coaching career, she has compiled a 1,118-616-5 record, including a 1,090-601-5 mark in 29 years as head coach at Carolina.

Carolina claimed the 2001 Atlantic Coast Conference Championship and has won five regular season titles and has played in the title game on three other occasions. Papa has been named ACC Coach of the Year five times - in 1996, 1998, 2000, 2008 and 2012. Since coming to Chapel Hill in 1985, Papa has coached players to All-America seasons on 11 occasions and 56 players to All-Southeast Region honors.

Theresa Buscemi was the first Tar Heel to earn All-America honors when she was named to the third team in 1992. Christine Kubin earned first-team honors in 1996, and Brandy Arthur followed in 1998. Kelly Ramsey was named to the third team in 2000, Tiffany Tolleson was named a second team member in 2002 and third team in 2003, and Jaclyn Holden became the first Tar Heel freshman to earn the honor when she was named to the third team in 2003. In 2006, Crystal Cox was selected to the third team. Pitcher Danielle Spaulding was a three-time All-America after earning a first-team nod in 2010.

In addition to success on the field, Papa's program is known for excellence in the classroom. Christine Kubin earned Academic All-America honors in 1995 and '96, and nine other Tar Heels have been named to the Academic All-America All-District team. Players who have earned that honor are Jenny Reed (1989), Julie O'Shields (1992), Lynnae Flynn (1993), Kubin (1994), Colleen Lefferts (1999), Beth Olen (2000), Sarah Young (2001, '02), Anna Tharrington (2003), Jessica Graziano (2004) and Anna Evans (2006, '07). In 2010, Stephanie Murad and senior Brittany Robinson were named NFCA Scholar Athletes, while senior Kelli Wheeler was named an NFCA Scholar Athlete in 2011 and 2012, and freshman Lauren Fuller received the honor in 2013 as well as Sara Buchholz, Jenna Kelly, Stephanie Krider, and Elly Wagner in 2014/

Tar Heel softball players regularly earn spots on the ACC Academic Honor Roll. Most recently, Kristen Brown, Jenna Kelly, and Lori Spingola earned ACC All-Academic nods in 2014, while in 2012, Kelli Wheeler was tabbed the ACC Softball Scholar-Athlete of the Year, earning her third ACC academic honor. UNC had 11 student-athletes named to the ACC Academic Honor Roll in 2014.

During her time at North Carolina, Papa has been a driving force behind the construction of the Anderson Softball Stadium. The Tar Heels began play at Anderson Stadium and Williams Field in 2002. The second phase of construction featured the additions of the team building, concessions, press box, restrooms and locker rooms, and was completed and dedicated in 2006. It features many player-friendly innovations while allowing the fans to watch and players to play softball in a first class facility. Most recently she spearheaded the construction of the indoor hitting facility, which is scheduled to be completed in 2015.

Prior to arriving in Chapel Hill, Papa spent two seasons as head volleyball and softball coach at Susquehanna University. Her 1985 softball squad compiled a 16-8 record, won its conference division and qualified for the Middle Atlantic Conference Championship. Papa's duties at Susquehanna also included working as the women's intramural coordinator, a physical education instructor and the school's primary recruiter for women's athletics. She served as an assistant softball coach at St. John's University from 1981-83 after spending one year as an assistant coach at UNC Greensboro while she worked toward a master's degree in physical education. Papa earned a bachelor's degree in physical education from the University of Connecticut in 1979. She played four seasons of softball for the Huskies and was co-captain her junior and senior seasons. Papa's playing career also encompassed stints with ASA Major Fast Pitch teams including the Franklin Coronets (West Haven, Conn.) and the Waterford (Conn.) Mariners.

A respected clinician, Papa conducts Carolina softball camps and clinics throughout the year. She recently served her second two-year term on the National Fastpitch Coaches Association All-America Committee. She also served on the NCAA All-Region Committee and has represented the ACC on the NFCA Top-25 Selection Committee in 2006 and 2007. Championship Productions produced a video titled "All Access North Carolina Softball Practices with Donna Papa," which is a tribute to her excellent coaching technique and widespread respect in the softball coaching community. In 2014, Coach Papa is wrote a chapter on "Establishing a Positive Player-Coach Relationship" for the "Softball Coaching Bible II."

Born March 16, 1956, in Waterbury, Conn., Papa was a recipient of the Olympian Award, presented by the Olympian Club of Waterbury, Conn., in recognition of outstanding achievement in athletics.

- Inducted into the NFCA Hall of Fame in 2012

Mary Jo Firnbach joined the UNC softball program as associate head coach in August 2014, focusing on the development of the hitters and infielders.

Firnbach came to UNC after spending eight seasons as the associate head coach at Texas A&M. During her tenure in College Station, the Aggies made eight NCAA tournament appearances, including two trips to the Women's College World Series and four NCAA Super Regional appearances. In 2008, Texas A&M advanced to the 2008 national championship game.

Before Texas A&M, Firnbach started the Syracuse University softball team, serving as head coach for seven seasons, where she led the Orange to a school record for victories (36) and its third appearance in the Big East championship, earning Coaching Staff of the Year honors in 2005. She has also held assistant coaching positions at Illinois State and the University of Michigan.

Firnbach graduated from Southern Illinois University in 1991 with a bachelor's degree in community health education and later returned for her masters in sports psychology. She is a member of the Southern Illinois University Athletics Hall of Fame.

While at Southern Illinois, Firnbach was named team captain in 1991, a season in which the Salukis went 42-7 and were the Gateway Conference regular season and tournament champions. She was a two-time Gateway All-Conference first-team selection and an All-Midwest second-team selection.

On the professional level, Firnbach played the 1991 season for the Raybestos Brakettes in Stratford, Conn. The Brakettes won the national championship and the gold medal at the Olympic Sports Festival. She also played with the Michigan Cruise in Ann Arbor, Mich., finishing fifth at the national tournament in 1994.

Firnbach entered the coaching profession immediately following graduation, serving as a volunteer assistant coach for two seasons at her alma mater, while completing her master's degree. She served as an assistant coach at Michigan from 1993-95 where she helped lead the Wolverines to a Big Ten Conference regular season and tournament championships, the National Invitational Tournament title and to an appearance in the College World Series.

Firnbach then served as an assistant coach and recruiting coordinator at Illinois State for three years. The Redbirds won the Missouri Valley Conference title in 1996 and 1997 before Firnbach was named the head coach of the Orange in 1998.

Marissa Young, a three-time All-America pitcher at the University of Michigan, is entering her second season as an assistant coach for the Carolina softball team. Young, who was named the 2002 Big Ten Pitcher of the Year and 2003 Big Ten Player of the Year, primarily coaches pitchers and catchers for the Tar Heels.

Young spent the 2012 and 2013 seasons as an assistant at Eastern Michigan, where she served as the compliance liaison, recruiting coordinator and managed team travel and the operational budget, among other duties. She helped coach five Academic All-Americans and five players of the week during her time at Eastern Michigan.

Prior to her stint at EMU, Young was the head coach at Concordia University (Ann Arbor, Mich.) from 2008-11. In less than three years with the program, she turned the 2-20 program to a 23-23 record, the second-most wins in a single season since an appearance in the 2002 NAIA National Tournament.

Young graduated from Michigan in 2003 as the all-time strikeout leader (927), and her 88 career wins became the second highest in program history. She also matched the then-program's single-season home run record with 13 in 2003. Young also played two years of professional softball, one overseas in Italy and the second year with the Texas Thunder of the NPF.

A native of Santa Ana, Calif., Young has three children – Layla, Jolyna and Kayden.

Suzanne Tadlock
Volunteer Assistant Coach

Suzanne Tadlock returns for her third year as the volunteer assistant for Carolina softball.

Tadlock joined the Tar Heels for the 2013 season after coaching high school softball at Leesville Road for 15 years, as well as serving as the Carolina Summer Softball Camps Director for the past three years.

“Suzanne is now in her third year as our volunteer assistant coach, bringing a wealth of knowledge and experience to our program. Her responsibilities include overseeing Donna J. Papa Softball Camps and Clinics, assisting with the infield and hitters, and coaching first base. Her background in leadership training and team building skills have been an asset in the continued development of our players in the culture of our team.”

In addition to Tadlock’s coaching duties at Leesville Road, she is a physical education teacher as well as the department chair. Before coming to Leesville Road, she was the physical education director and athletics director for the Raleigh, N.C., chapter of the Boys and Girls Club of America.

Tadlock has also helped with numerous NCAA and NYSC softball clinics throughout her career and has assisted with UNC softball camps since 2007.

Tadlock is a graduate of UNC Greensboro (1990), where she played softball for the Spartans. She received her teaching certificate in 1999 from East Carolina University.

Bubba Cunningham
Director of Athletics

Lawrence R. (Bubba) Cunningham is in his third full year and fourth year overall as Carolina’s director of athletics. One of Cunningham’s first accomplishments at UNC was the development of a strategic plan that adopted the mission statement – “We Educate and Inspire Through Athletics” – and identified Responsibility, Innovation, Service and Excellence (RISE) as the department’s core values.

Last year, Carolina finished eighth in the NACDA Director’s Cup on the strength of national championships in women’s soccer and women’s lacrosse. The Tar Heels also had Top 10 finishes in field hockey (second), baseball (third), men’s lacrosse (fifth), men’s soccer (fifth) and women’s tennis (fifth). The women’s tennis team captured the ITA national indoor title and six other programs finished in the Top 25. UNC’s women’s program captured the 2013 Capital One Cup, which is awarded to the nation’s best Division I athletics program. A record 329 Tar Heel student-athletes made the ACC Honor Roll, which requires a cumulative GPA of at least 3.0.

Cunningham is in his 11th year as a Division I director of athletics, including six years at Tulsa and three years at Ball State. From 1988-2002, Cunningham worked at his alma mater, the University of Notre Dame.

He earned his bachelor’s and master’s degrees in business administration, in 1984 and 1988, respectively, and was a member of the Irish golf team in 1982-83.

Raised in Naples, Fla., Cunningham and his wife, Tina, have four children: Matthew, Michael, John and Sarah.

CAROLINA SOFTBALL HOME RUN CLUB

The Home Run Club is the primary booster organization for Carolina Softball. The funds raised through the Home Run Club help support the program to continue to function at the highest level and improve to reach new goals. There are 3 ways you can give. Carolina Softball appreciates your willingness to donate to the program and considers you to be a very important part of the Carolina Softball family.

Single, Double, Triple, Home Run, and Grand Slam Option

Home Run and Grand Slam donors will have the opportunity to place a brick in our Donors Circle on the concourse at Anderson Stadium. All the General Donations will help to provide for the everyday sustainability of the softball program.

The Carolina Softball Wish List Option

You can donate to specific items the program needs through our Wish List giving. This will allow you to know what your donation is going toward this season. With the construction of the NEW Indoor

Hitting Facility, we have some immediate needs for items highlighted in the box below

Fuel the Heels Option

There are two ways to donate to this. You can provide a pre-game or post-game meal, or you can donate to provide snacks for games.

All Home Run Club members will receive an invitation to our Carolina Softball Senior Banquet during Senior Weekend, April 11-12, 2015. This is a very special event for us, as we honor our seniors who have dedicated so much to the program, in addition to recognizing the successes from our season. We would love to have those who support our program in attendance.

The Carolina Softball program is very excited for the 2015 season, but it is only through your generous giving that we can continue to improve. We hope you will consider giving and appreciate your support of the Tar Heels as we try to load the bases!

2014 SEASON IN REVIEW

North Carolina finished the 2014 season with a 24-26 overall record and 14-11 in ACC play and advanced to the ACC semi-finals after beating NC State 8-4 in the first round. The Tar Heels finished near the top of the conference statistically, placing in the top four for fielding percentage, runs scored, and home runs.

TAR HEELS NAMED ALL-ACC

Three Tar Heels were named All-ACC following the 2014 season. Kristen Brown was named to the All-ACC First Team, earning conference honors for the second time in her career after being named to the second team in 2013.

Aquilla Mateen and Jenna Kelly were tabbed as All-ACC Second Team selections. The pair finished 2014 first and second on the team in batting average. Mateen and Kendra Lynch were selected to the ACC All-Tournament Team for their post-season performances. Kelly was also selected to the NFCA All-Region Team for her efforts last season.

ACADEMIC ACHIEVEMENTS

In addition to succeeding on the field, Carolina also had one of its strongest academic years in 2013-14. Kristen Brown, Jenna Kelly and Lori Spingola received All-ACC Academic honors, and 11 Tar Heels were named to the ACC Academic Honor Roll: Ashley Bone, Kristen Borwn, Sara Buchholz, Elena Covert, Jill Ferraro, Jenna Kelly, Stephanie Krider, Erin Satterfield, Lori Spingola, Elly Wagner and Lauren Walker. 2013-14 had a record number of Tar Heels named to the ACC Academic Honor Roll with 347 across all sports.

Sara Buchholz, Jenna Kelly, Stephanie Krider and Elly Wagner earned National Fastpitch Coaches Association All-America Scholar-Athlete honors last season as well.

Fittingly, North Carolina's varsity softball program began victoriously – with a 15-6 win over N.C. Central on March 23, 1977. UNC had offered softball as a club sport until forming a varsity team for the first time that year. Though the Tar Heels finished the season with a record of 13-18 – one of only three times in school history that Carolina has posted a final season record below .500 – the future shined brightly.

Progress was swift, and by 1981 the team was competing for a national championship. The Tar Heels won the AIAW Southern Region II Tournament that year and finished second to Florida State at the AIAW National Slow-Pitch Tournament, which was held in Raleigh.

UNC switched to fast-pitch play in 1984 and compiled a 26-14 record that year, despite the fact that the roster included only six players who had previous fastpitch experience. One of those six was freshman pitcher Virginia Augusta, who threw two no-hitters in 1984, setting the standard for a career that would include numerous program records. As a senior, she led the team with a 20-5-1 record and an ERA of 0.54. She still holds several UNC records, including career winning percentage (.747) and fewest runs allowed (75).

1984 was also the year the Tar Heels, under coach Susan Clark, moved to Finley Field, which served as their home until 2002. In its early years as a program, the team played most of its home games at James Field, located on the southern part of the campus near where the Dean E. Smith Center now stands.

In 1986, Donna Papa, formerly the softball and volleyball coach at Susquehanna University, took over as coach of the Tar Heels and Carolina has never looked back. She has guided the team to 14 straight winning seasons in Chapel Hill. She enters her 30th UNC campaign with a record of 1,090-601-5 at Carolina and 1,118-616-5 overall in her 31-year coaching career.

Although the Tar Heels had been regularly playing some Atlantic Coast Conference teams, UNC did not officially begin league play until 1992, when they joined along with Florida State, Georgia Tech and Virginia. (Maryland, NC State, Boston College and Virginia Tech have since joined the ACC ranks.) It did not take Carolina long to start earning conference honors. In 1994, the Tar Heels fielded their first ACC Player of the Year when Beverly Smith batted .346 and led UNC with 36 RBIs to earn the award. Brandy Arthur followed her in 1998, and Michelle Semmes won as a junior in 2000 as did junior Danielle Spaulding in 2008.

For her outstanding work, Papa has been named conference Coach of the Year five times, most recently in 2012. The 2000 team wrapped up the season with a 47-17 mark and set team records for hits, runs, RBIs, doubles, home runs and total bases.

The 2001 Tar Heels achieved two milestones that had been long-time program goals. On May 13, 2001, UNC won its first ACC Tournament, defeating Florida State 4-1 in the title game to claim the conference championship. Later that day, UNC received an at-large bid to the NCAA

The 2001 team claimed the program's first ACC championship.

Tournament. In their first ever tournament appearance, the Tar Heels finished 1-2 in the NCAA Regional at Norman, Okla.

The following season, Carolina softball celebrated another landmark in the program's history when the team moved into its brand-new facility - Anderson Stadium. After many years of planning, the team now competes at one of the nation's finest facilities.

In 2003, Carolina again earned an NCAA Regional bid and traveled to Fresno, Calif., where the Tar Heels went 1-2. For the first time in program history, UNC had two players earn All-America honors, with Tiffany Tolleson and freshman Jacyln Holden both named to the third team.

The 2004 squad also made the NCAA field, traveling to Waco, Texas, where the team played several unforgettable games. In the opener, the Tar Heels went 15 scoreless innings with third-seeded Baylor, the host team, before the Bears scored a run in the 16th inning for a 1-0 win. After a 4-0 win over Texas-San Antonio, the Tar Heels met Seton Hall in what would become another epic contest. The game went to the 12th inning before UNC finally yielded a run to once again fall 1-0.

The Tar Heels earned another at-large bid to the NCAA Tournament in 2005, advancing to the NCAA Regional final in Ann Arbor, Mich., for the first time in program history. UNC finished 2-2 in the tournament, falling to eventual national champion Michigan.

From 2006 to 2009, Carolina softball compiled 191 wins led by the stellar 2009 senior class of Whitney Allen, Breanna Brown, Alyssa Francona, Lisa Norris and Emily Troup.

Carolina won a school-record 48 games in 2006, only to see that mark broken two years later when the Tar Heels reeled off 50 victories.

UNC set a new record in 2007, rattling off 28 consecutive wins en route to their fifth consecutive NCAA Tournament appearance. The Tar Heels have been eliminated by the eventual national runner-up twice, Tennessee in 2007 and Georgia in 2009.

Overall, UNC has advanced to the NCAA Regionals in 10 of the last 12 seasons and hosted regionals twice. Danielle Spaulding, one of the top players in Tar Heel history, earned second-team All-America honors in 2008, third-team in 2009 and first-team in 2010, becoming just the third player in school history to earn three All-America nods.

ANTER IN ATHENS OLYMPICS

Natalie Anter is not only the first Tar Heel to play on softball's biggest stage, the Olympics, but she also had a critical role in ensuring that she got that chance.

A dual citizen of the U.S. and Italy, Anter hit a three-run home run for the Italian National Team in the final game of the Africa/Europe Olympic Qualifier to lead Italy to a 9-2 win over the Czech Republic. That gave Anter and Italy a spot in the eight-team Olympic field for the 2004 Athens Games – and gave Carolina its first softball Olympian.

A four-year starter at catcher for the Tar Heels from 1999-2002, Anter earned All-Southeast Region and All-ACC honors in each year of her career. She still holds UNC career records for RBIs (164) and total bases (389), and was named to the ACC 50th Anniversary Team as one of the top 50 players in conference history.

PAPA INDUCTED INTO NFCA HALL OF FAME

Head coach Donna Papa was inducted into the 2012 NFCA Hall of Fame on Nov. 30, 2012. Papa, along with former Palomar Junior College head coach Mark Eldridge and Oklahoma head coach Patty Gasso joined one of softball's most elite fraternities with their induction.

The trio's induction rewarded each of them for legendary careers shaping and molding student-athletes into successful people. With each inductee having surpassed the prestigious 1,000-victory plateau, the group has combined to win over 3,100 games, and has totaled 42 regular season or league tournament championships and 81 All-American honorees.

With over 1,000 career victories at North Carolina, Papa has created a winning culture in Chapel Hill that is rivaled by few. Under her tutelage, since joining the program as its head coach prior to the 1986 campaign, the Tar Heels have had 24 winning seasons, including the last 14 in a row, and have been to the NCAA tournament in 10 of the past 12 years.

With Papa at the helm, Carolina has won five regular-season ACC titles and one conference tournament crown while becoming a perennial top -25 program. She has also helped numerous players achieve individual success including 11 All-Americans and 59 All-Region honorees. No stranger to accolades herself, Papa was named as the ACC Coach of the Year in 1996, 1998, 2000, 2008 and 2012.

HITTING FACILITY TO BE COMPLETED IN 2015

Construction of a new softball hitting facility is currently underway at UNC's Anderson Stadium. The Rams Club is raising funds for the building and donors can make a pledges to assist the cause.

This brand new facility will provide a much needed indoor practice space that will allow for the softball team to conduct hitting practices year round. This new facility will greatly enhance the student-athlete experience while better preparing the team for competition. The facility is a 5,000 square-foot building that will include three retractable batting cages, a video review and assessment area and state-of-the art LED lighting.

"I am so thrilled about the construction of a new indoor facility. It is a testament to the commitment of the Ram's Club and John Montgomery and the Athletic Department and Bubba Cunningham to enhance the student athlete experience." says head coach Donna Papa. "The opportunity for our players to become better softball players on a daily basis is exciting.

"Over the past 30 years, our softball program has had to scramble for an indoor facility to hit in when the weather has been inclement. We really felt the effects of that more so last season. Our baseball program has been generous in allowing us to use their cages but there was always the unknown of when that could be. We also have spent numerous hours travelling to and from an indoor facility to get our work done. It will be incredible to walk out the door of our team building and step into a new hitting facility that we can call our own.

"Our players now have the opportunity to get better and have the same opportunities as other softball players at a number of schools in our conference and nationally. We are very appreciative and can't wait to start squaring up some balls in the new facility."

CAROLINA TRADITIONS

WHY TAR HEELS?

University of North Carolina athletic teams are known as the Tar Heels because North Carolina is "The Tar Heel State."

One legend has the nickname being applied to the state's residents as long ago as the Revolutionary War. According to this story, the troops of British General Cornwallis were fording what is now known as the Tar River between Rocky Mount and Battleboro when they discovered that tar had been dumped into the stream to impede their crossing. When they finally got across the river they found their feet completely black with tar. Their observation that anyone who waded North Carolina rivers would acquire tar heels led to the nickname first being used.

Others say the nickname was acquired during the Civil War. During one of that war's fiercest battles a column supporting North Carolina troops was driven from the field. After the battle, the North Carolinians who had successfully fought it out alone, happened to meet the regiment which had fled to safety and were greeted with the question, "Any more tar down in the Old North State, boys?"

"No, not a bit," shot back one of the North Carolina soldiers. "Old Jeff's bought it all up," he went on, referring to Jefferson Davis, President of the Confederacy.

"Is that so? What's he going to do with it?"

"He's going to put it on you'ns heels to make you stick better in the next fight."

Upon hearing of the incident, Robert E. Lee smiled and said to a fellow officer, "God bless the Tar Heel boys."

A letter found in 1991 by State Archivist David Olson lends credence to another more direct theory. A letter from Maj. Joseph Engelhard describes a fight involving men from North Carolina in which Lee was heard to have said,

"There they stand as if they have tar on their heels."

The letter, dated Aug. 24, 1864, told the tale of a battle on the outskirts of Petersburg, Va. Engelhard was elected secretary of state for North Carolina in 1876.

RAM MASCOT

Since Carolina's nickname is Tar Heels, it might seem strange to have a ram as a mascot. It is. But, there is a good explanation. It's offered by Vic Huggins, Carolina's head cheerleader back in 1924.

at that time, agreed with the idea and gave us $25 to purchase a fitting mascot," said Huggins.

Rameses the First was shipped in from Texas, arriving just in time to be introduced at a pep rally before the VMI game. Complete with a monogram blanket on his back, Rameses helped make the pep rally one of the school's greatest.

Then the ram was taken to Emerson Field where Carolina was an underdog to a strong VMI team. But, for three quarters the Tar Heels battled the visitors to a scoreless tie.

Late in the fourth period Carolina's Bunn Hackney was called upon to attempt a field goal. Before taking the field he rubbed Rameses' head for good luck.

Seconds later Hackney's 30-yard dropkick sailed between the goalposts, giving the Tar Heels a 3-0 victory and a legendary mascot.

SCHOOL COLORS

The adoption of light blue and white as UNC's colors dates back to the 19th Century. When the University reopened following the Civil War, most social activities were directed by two literary societies, the Dialectic and Philanthropic. The official color of the Di was light blue and that of the Phi white.

On public occasions the student officers, marshals and ball managers were chosen equally from the membership of the two societies. It had long been the custom of each society for its members to wear its color on such occasions. However, the chief marshal and chief ball manager, one from the Di and the other from the Phi, wore combination light blue and white regalias and rosettes signifying that they represented the whole student body.

So it seemed only natural for the fans to adorn themselves with the same combination as that used by the chief marshals and ball managers, colors that represented not membership in a society, but a University student body.

"In 1924 school spirit was at a peak," Huggins once explained. "But something seemed to be missing. One day it hit me. Georgia had a bulldog for a mascot and State a wolf. What Carolina needed was a symbol."

Two years earlier the Tar Heels had posted a brilliant 9-1 record. The star of that 1922 team was a bruising fullback named Jack Merritt. Merritt was nicknamed "the battering ram" for the way he plunged into lines. It seemed natural to Huggins to link a mascot with Merritt's nickname.

CHAPEL HILL

Home for a Lifetime

Often referred to as “The Southern Part of Heaven,” Chapel Hill has been called the perfect college town by several publications, including Sports Illustrated.

- Chapel Hill has been ranked the Most Livable Small City (less than 100,000) in America.
- Chapel Hill has a population of approximately 60,000 and neighboring Carrboro adds another 20,000 people.
- The Chapel Hill/Carrboro area offers a wealth of dining, shopping and entertainment options, with many more located nearby in Hillsborough, Durham and Raleigh.
- Chapel Hill’s location is ideal, within an easy drive of North Carolina’s beautiful beaches and mountains.

Running along the north edge of campus, Franklin Street is the heart of Chapel Hill. It provides a mix of restaurants, shops and nightlife, and also serves as the town’s meeting place. UNC fans rush Franklin Street to celebrate Tar Heel titles, and each year Halloween festivities draw thousands of revelers.

UNC has won 22 women's soccer national championships, most recently in 2012.

UNC Athletics celebrates success at the annual Rammy Awards

The Tar Heel women's tennis team advanced to the 2014 NCAA title match, finishing as the national runner-up. Freshman Jamie Loeb (far right and inset) was honored as the ITA National Player of Year.

• UNC has won more national championships and more conference championships than any other school in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

• UNC has finished among the top 10 in the Directors' Cup standings 11 times in the past 13 years and 17 times in the 21-year history of the competition. Carolina has ranked in the top 20 in all 21 years of the competition and won the inaugural trophy in 1994.

• Some of the best-known names in sports – such as Michael Jordan and Mia Hamm – wore Carolina blue.

ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE

Advancing to graduation, Building Character, Developing leadership

- The Academic Support Program for Student-Athletes assists Tar Heel student-athletes in exploring their interests and abilities, enjoying a broad educational experience, and reaching or exceeding their academic goals.

- The Academic Support Program is housed in the Loudermilk Center for Excellence, a 150,000-square-foot facility that serves all of Carolina's nearly 800 student-athletes across 28 varsity sports. The Loudermilk Center's largest feature is the John W. Pope Student-Athlete Academic Support Center. This facility provides classrooms for teaching and tutoring, study lounges, office space and a computer lab. It also houses the Richard A. Baddour Carolina Leadership Academy, which offers leadership training for Carolina student-athletes, coaches and staff.

- The Academic Support Program helps freshmen transition from high school to college through a variety of academic programs such as academic counseling, individual tutoring, group review sessions and supplemental instruction.

- During the 2013-14 academic year, a record 347 Carolina student-athletes earned spots on the ACC Academic Honor Roll, a recognition that requires a cumulative GPA of at least 3.0 for the year. A total of 161 Tar Heel student-athletes were named to the Dean's List in the fall of 2013, and 168 were recognized in the spring.

TAR HEEL
LEADERS OF DISTINCTION

Developing World-Class Leaders for a Lifetime of Service and Success

The following student-athletes have earned the utmost respect from their teammates, coaches and themselves. As such, they have merited the designation of being Tar Heel Leaders of Distinction. This is the highest honor bestowed by the Richard A. Baddour Carolina Leadership Academy.

UNC student-athletes have the opportunity to participate in the Richard A. Baddour Carolina Leadership Academy, now in its 11th year of ground-breaking leadership training.

As the nation's premier leadership development program in collegiate athletics, the Leadership Academy develops, challenges and supports student-athletes, coaches and staff in their continual quest to become world-class leaders in athletics, academics and life.

The Leadership Academy provides comprehensive and cutting-edge leadership development programming through interactive workshops, 360-degree feedback, one-on-one coaching, peer mentoring and educational resources.

The Richard A. Baddour Carolina Leadership Academy offers five programs for student-athletes:

Carolina CREED Program

Leadership training begins in the first year at UNC. All leadership begins with personal leadership, therefore first-year student-athletes are taught skills to effectively lead themselves. Training consists of monthly meetings featuring keynote speakers and small group discussion.

CREED Mentors Program

Upperclass student-athletes are selected to serve as CREED mentors, directing discussions and helping to build community. Special focus is on responsibility, accountability, making good choices, ethics and character building.

Rising Stars Program

Designed for a select group of "high potential" sophomores and juniors, the program provides future leaders with insights, strategies and skills necessary to become effective leaders. The program includes monthly meetings, interactive exercises and action learning experiences.

Leadership Lab Program

This level of involvement is slotted between Rising Star and possible Veteran Leader participation. It is an opportunity for continued leadership reflection, mentorship, and application. Leadership reflection entails authentically sourced curriculum for leadership workshops. Leadership mentorship is offered by coaches, department staff members, and current team leadership. Leadership application involves a leadership project.

Veteran Leaders Program

This program is designed for team captains and veteran student-athletes. It provides advanced leadership training and support, teaches the critical skills and insights necessary to be effective vocal leaders and provides a strong peer network. Student-athletes meet regularly to learn and reinforce leadership principles as well as share successes, frustrations and lessons.

Five softball players have been named Tar Heel Leaders of Distinction, earning the highest honor bestowed by the bCLA. Past recipients are (left to right) Kelli Wheeler, Anna Evans, Anna Roberts, Christine Knauer and Whitney Allen. Wheeler and Evans both were two-time winners of the award.

THE CAROLINA CREED

As a University of North Carolina student-athlete I pledge to make every effort to abide by the Carolina CREED as a show of my commitment to the University, the Department of Athletics, my team, and myself.

C I will know and embrace the tradition and culture of this great university and its athletics department

R I will respect myself and others

E I will pursue excellence in my academic work by striving to reach my academic potential while preparing for a career of significance

E I will excel athletically by committing myself to performance excellence, team success, and continual improvement

D I will develop the capacity to effectively lead myself and others

THE RAMS CLUB

THANK YOU RAMS CLUB MEMBERS!

YOU ARE WHY OUR WORLD-CLASS STUDENT-ATHLETES AND COACHES WORK TO BE SMARTER, FASTER AND STRONGER EVERY YEAR IN ORDER TO LIVE UP TO CAROLINA'S TRADITION OF SUCCESS.

Each year, The Rams Club's primary mission of fully funding all 450 of Carolina's student-athlete scholarships becomes more and more challenging. Thanks to the incredible generosity and longevity of support from Rams Club members, The Rams Club has always been able to fulfill our mission.

Because of this support, Carolina student-athletes have excelled representing the Tar Heels in the classroom and on the playing field.

In addition to the nine ACC Players of the Year and four ACC Freshmen of the Year, 88 Tar Heels were recognized on All-ACC Academic Teams, two were named ACC Scholar Athletes of the Year and UNC Field Hockey's Lauren Shealy was named Sports Illustrated's College Athlete of the Year. None of these incredible feats would be possible without the foundation of support you provide for Carolina Athletics.

YOU ARE WHY Carolina continues to educate and inspire the best student-athletes in the nation!

329 student-athletes were named to UNC's Dean's List during the academic year of 2013-2014.

The NCAA honored five University of North Carolina athletic programs whose Academic Progress Rates are among the top 10 percent nationally.

A record number of UNC student-athletes – 347– made the ACC Academic Honor Roll in 2013-14. UNC's previous high was 329 in 2012-13.

Carolina Educates & Inspires the Best Student-Athletes in the Country

THE RAMS CLUB

THANK YOU RAMS CLUB MEMBERS

CURRENT MEMBERS

MAKE AN EVEN GREATER IMPACT!

As costs continue to increase, current Rams Club members can make an even greater impact on the success of Carolina Athletics through the following ways:

GIVE 110%

Our student-athletes routinely give 110%. By simply giving 110% of your membership level, you can help insure that The Rams Club can continue to meet rising scholarship costs.

REFER MEMBERS

In order to continue support for a successful athletics program, we need to build our membership! By having a new member mention your name upon signing up for The Rams Club, you'll earn additional priority points.

CAPITAL PROJECTS

By making a pledge to The Loudermilk Center for Excellence, you can help complete the fundraising for this project that now provides student-athletes a world-class academic and training facility. Contributions will receive 1.4 points per $100 contributed.
