Nike Supports UNC Athletics

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and Nike Inc. signed a new 10-year contract for Nike to be the exclusive supplier of athletic footwear, apparel and accessory products to the Tar Heels effective July 1, 2008. Nike provides the athletic department with shoes, uniforms, coaching gear, balls and other equipment. In addition to the apparel and equipment, which constitutes the majority of the value of the contract, Nike gives the University $2 million for the Chancellor's Academic Enhancement Fund. Chancellor Holden Thorp has directed the funds to faculty support. Nike also provides support for team tours, travel and the hosting regular-season tournaments in several sports, including the 2012 Nike Carolina Classic at Fetzer Field August 24 and 26. The athletic department also received $1 million for signing the contract, with those funds having been used to overhaul lighting and sound at the Dean E. Smith Center.

2011 UNC Women's Soccer Core Values & Team Accolades

TOUGH: From George Bernard Shaw: "... be a force of fortune instead of a feverish, selfish little clod of ailments and grievances complaining that the world will not devote itself to making you happy." Funded by Dwight Anderson; Exemplified by Hannah Daly, Adelaide Gay, Maria Lubrano.

DISCIPLINED: From Henry Adams; Theodore Rex – Desmond Morris: "Roosevelt . . . showed the singular primitive quality that belongs to ultimate matter . . . 'he was pure act'." Exemplified by Hannah Daly, Maria Lubrano, Raneë Premji.

FOCUSED: From Reynolds Price: "College is about books. This will almost certainly be the last time in your life when other people bear the expense of awarding you four years of financially unburdened time." Funded by Marjorie and Walter Buckley; Exemplified by Rebecca Crabb, Hannah Daly, Adelaide Gay.

RELENTLESS: From Thomas Buxton – Philanthropist: "The difference between one person and another, between the weak and the powerful, the great and the insignificant, is energy – invisible determination." Funded by Munroe and Becky Cobey; Exemplified by Amber Brooks, Crystal Dunn, Maria Lubrano.

RESILIENT: From Jason Elliot; An Unexpected Light: Travels in Afghanistan: "What an extraordinary place of liberties the West really is . . . exempt from . . . a traditional life for survival, they become spoiled and fragile like over bred dogs . . ." Funded by Alston Gardner; Exemplified by Hannah Daly, Maria Lubrano, Kat Nigro.

POSITIVE: From Viktor E. Frankl Man's Search for Meaning: "... everything can be taken from a man but one thing: the last of the human freedoms – to choose one's attitude in any given set of circumstances, to choose one's own way." Funded by Laszlo Birinyi; Exemplified by Hannah Daly, Kat Nigro, Anna Sieloff.

CLASSY: From Doug Smith, Manager ('86): "Class is the graceful way you treat someone even when they can do nothing for you." Exemplified by Hannah Daly, Kat Nigro, Anna Sieloff.

CARING: From John Donne; For Whom the Bell Tolls: "No man is an island, entire of itself . . . any man's death diminishes me, because I am involved in mankind, and therefore never send to know for whom the bell tolls; it tolls for thee." Funded by Keath Castelloe-Low; Exemplified by Hannah Daly, Kat Nigro, Emmalie Pfankuch.

NOBLE: From Viktor E. Frankl Man's Search for Meaning: "If there is a meaning in life at all, then there must be a meaning in suffering." Exemplified by Hannah Daly, Kat Nigro, Emmalie Pfankuch.

SELFLESS: From Note given to Coach Dorrance by Raket Karvelsson (UNC '98): "People don't care how much you know until they know how much you care." Exemplified by Hannah Daly, Crystal Dunn, Adelaide Gay.

GALVANIZING: From William Damon; Greater Expectations: "Not long ago, to 'believe in yourself' meant taking a principled, and often lonely, stand when it appeared difficult or dangerous to do so." Funded by Bill Rogers; Exemplified by Amber Brooks, Adelaide Gay, Courtney Jones.

GRATEFUL: From Gregg Easterbrook, The Progress Paradox. "Finally there is the question of whether we have a duty to feel grateful. Hundreds of generations who came before us lived dire, short lives . . . and did so partly motivated by the dream that someday there would be men and women who lived long lives . . . without fear of an approaching storm." Exemplified by Hannah Daly, Kat Nigro, Emmalie Pfankuch.

INTENSITY: Honoring Art Halpern. Funded by a generous gift from Randy and Rusty Myer. Exemplified by Rebecca Crabb, Emmalie Pfankuch.

THE KELLY MULDOON is given yearly to the player who is selected by her teammates as the person who lives the 12 Core Values to their fullest. Finishing in the Top 3 of the 12 core values for 2011 was Hannah Daly.

HONORING ACADEMIC ACHIEVEMENT: At the conclusion of the fall semester of 2011, eight players (Caitlin Ball, Amber Brooks, Rebecca Crabb, Brooke Elby, Adelaide Gay, Kelly McFarlane, Emmalie Pfankuch and Sarah Thompson) had cumulative grade point averages of 3.5 or above while six players (Kealia Ohai, Raneë Premji, Anna Sieloff, Farrell Sweeney, Kristine Welsh-Loveman, Rachel Wood) had cumulative grade point averages of 3.0 or above.

Kenan Charitable Trust Gives $1 Million Endowment to UNC Women's Soccer Program to Honor Braxton Schell

Trustees of the William R. Kenan, Jr., Charitable Trust announced a gift of $1 million dollars to help endow scholarships and the operating budget of the University's women's soccer program in 2007. Dr. Richard M. Krasno, executive director of the Trust, made the announcement. The endowment was made in the name of William R. Kenan, Jr., in honor of the late Braxton Schell, an attorney in Greensboro, N.C., and a Carolina alumnus.

"The William R. Kenan, Jr. Charitable Trust was delighted to make this grant for two reasons. First, it enabled us to honor Braxton Schell, who was a staunch supporter of women's soccer at Carolina for decades and an important figure in the evolution and administration of many of the Kenan philanthropies," explained Krasno. "Second, the grant provides a way for us to honor an athletic program that has not only been phenomenally successful on the playing field; but also has been a model of the best that college sports can offer to its participants, fans and alumni. We hope that our gift will enable the women's soccer program to thrive and continue to demonstrate that all college athletic programs can be a source of pride and excitement to the UNC-Chapel Hill community."

Schell was a long-time fan and supporter of the UNC women's soccer program and he served as an attorney for the William R. Kenan, Jr. Funds. Schell regularly attended the team's games and traveled with the team on overseas exhibition tours as well. He was a partner in the law firm Schell, Bray, Aycock, Abel & Livingston PLLC in Greensboro, N.C. Schell was a 1948 Phi Beta Kappa alumnus of Carolina with a Bachelor of Science degree and he received his Juris Doctor degree with honors in 1951. Schell served as the Associate Editor of the North Carolina Law Review and was a Life Fellow of the American Bar Foundation. He was listed in "Best Lawyers in America" for corporate law practice for over 25 years and was named as a member of Business North Carolina's Legal Elite

The endowment goes to help fund annual scholarships for women's soccer at Carolina as well as benefiting the operating budget of the program in order to maintain the program at the highest level.

"The gift from the Kenan Trust means so much to the University and particularly to the women's soccer program. I think it speaks volumes as to the pride this University and the benefactors of UNC feel about not only the success of the women's soccer program but also the way in which Anson Dorrance and his staff have conducted themselves in building and maintaining a championship program," said Tar Heel Director of Athletics Dick Baddour.

"We are overwhelmed and so appreciative of the Kenan Charitable Trust for this remarkable gift," said UNC head coach Anson Dorrance. "We are all incredibly humbled with the size of the gift and honored with the rationale. Thank you on behalf of my staff and all the extraordinary young women who like me wear the Carolina Blue with undying loyalty and pride and have tried to show that every year."

Head coach Anson Dorrance returns 21 letter winners and adds 13 newcomers as the 2012 University of North Carolina women's soccer team looks to bounce back from a frustrating 2011 season as the Tar Heels seek to regain their spots at the top of the podium at the ACC and NCAA Tournaments this season.

Despite a strong effort from an outstanding 2011 senior class, statistically the Tar Heels struggled to their worst winning percentage in history a year ago at .700. For most programs a 13-5-2 record would be cause for celebration, but the heavy history of UNC women's soccer is difficult for current teams to live up to each and every year. Last year's squad was injury plagued and short on depth, something Dorrance and recruiting coordinator Chris Ducar looked to solve by bringing in a talented 13-woman recruiting class.

The chief loss from last year's senior class was forward Courtney Jones, who led the Tar Heels in scoring with 20 points. Other key losses from the Class of 2011 included a trio of reserves — forward Emmalie Pfankuch, midfielder Rebecca Crabb and defender Rachel Wood.

A year ago, the Tar Heels finished third in the Atlantic Coast Conference with a record of 6-3-1. But the Tar Heels fell to Florida State 1-0 in double overtime in the quarterfinals of the ACC Tournament, thus suffering the program's first ever loss in the history of the event dating back to 1988. UNC bounced back to beat William & Mary 4-1 in the NCAA Tournament first round and Baylor 5-0 in the NCAA Tournament second round. Carolina then saw its season end prematurely when it battled UCF to a 1-1 tie in the NCAA Tournament third round only to see the Golden Knights advanced to the quarterfinals on penalty kicks 5-4.

Carolina returns 10 players who started at the end of the 2011 season. Juniors Crystal Dunn and Kealia Ohai return at forward although both will miss the non-conference season while playing in the 2012 U20 Women's World Cup in Japan in August and September. Returning starters at midfield include seniors Amber Brooks, Raneem Premji and Alyssa Rich and junior Kelly McFarlane. Returning starters on defense are senior Megan Brigman, junior Meg Morris and sophomore Caitlin Ball. Senior Adelaide Gay and junior Anna Sieloff return as co-starters in the goal for UNC. Typically, Gay played the first half of each game in 2011 while Sieloff played the second half.

Ohai is one of five Tar Heels returning to the lineup who produced at least 10 points last season. She had six goals and six assists for 18 points. Brooks had 14 points and shared the team lead in assists with eight with Courtney Jones. Premji had 13 points, Dunn 13 points and Brigman 11 points. Despite starting on defense, Brigman's five goals ranked second on the team in 2011. She led UNC in minutes played for the second straight year with 1,834.

Other key returning letter winners are senior midfielder Maria Lubrano, who started nine games last year; sophomore midfielder/defender Brooke Elby; sophomore forward Bianca Gray; sophomore defender Taylor Ramirez; sophomore defender Satara Murray; and senior goalkeeper Hannah Daly. Other returning letter winners in the midfield include seniors Kristine Welsh-Loveman and Barkley Minton as well as sophomore Sarah Thompson and redshirt freshman Kat Nigro.

Daly started the first two games last season and was off to a great start before requiring shoulder surgery. Gay came on to start 18 games for UNC and she led the ACC in goals against average at 0.40.

The Tar Heels welcome a tremendous recruiting class led by graduate student Marina Nestic, an NCAA Division II standout at Grand Canyon University last year; freshman forward Summer Green, a member of the U17 Women's World Cup Team who will miss the first half of this year's ACC season; and freshman goalkeeper Bryane Heaberlin, who will join Dunn and Ohai in Japan for the 2012 U20 Women's World Cup. Incoming freshman Katie Bowen, a defender, was an alternate for the New Zealand team at the 2012 Olympic Games in London.

The remainder of the outstanding freshman class includes forward Reilly Parker, midfielder Madelyn White, forward Indi Cowie, goalkeeper Lindsey Harris, midfielder Paige Nielsen, midfielder Caroline Lindquist, midfielder Vicky Bruce, midfielder Hanna Gardner and midfielder Michelle Clemente.

The Tar Heels compete in the ACC, which has now become top to bottom the most challenging league in the history of collegiate women's soccer as nine teams finished in the Top 29 of last year's final RPI. Carolina's non-conference schedule will be its most challenging in years, including games against perennial NCAA Tournament teams Portland, Florida, Connecticut, Notre Dame, Marquette and San Diego.

Bubba Cunningham • Director of Athletics

Lawrence R. (Bubba) Cunningham is in his second year as the director of athletics at the University of North Carolina. Chancellor Holden Thorp appointed Cunningham, who had been the director of athletics at The University of Tulsa for six years, on October 14, 2011.

In his first year as the Carolina athletic director he guided the Tar Heel program to an eighth-place finish in the Learfield Directors' Cup. The Tar Heels won the NCAA championship in men's soccer in his initial year at the helm. Cunningham also guided the department through a major reorganization that was announced in July 2012.

Cunningham, 50, officially began his duties at Carolina on November 14, 2011, succeeding Dick Baddour. Cunningham is the seventh director of athletics in UNC history, following Robert A. Fetzer (1923-52), Chuck Erickson (1953-67), Homer Rice (1969-75), Bill Cobey (1976-80), John Swofford (1980-97) and Baddour (1997-2011).

Cunningham is in his 11th year as a Division I director of athletics. In addition to his tenure at Tulsa, he was the AD for three years from 2002-2005 at Ball State University.

He was honored as the 2008-09 FBS Central Region Athletics Director of the Year, an award presented by the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics.

"Bubba Cunningham is an outstanding choice," Atlantic Coast Conference commissioner and former UNC A.D. John Swofford said after the hire. "He is a quality administrator and terrific person. Bubba is a highly respected and proven Athletics Director who will fit in extremely well at UNC and will be a welcome addition around our ACC table."

Cunningham guided Tulsa through its initial move to Conference USA and spearheaded a $60 million athletics initiative, which included a $20 million renovation to Skelly Field at H.A. Chapman Stadium, a goal of $20 million for an athletics scholarship endowment and $20 million for coaches' salary endowment.

At Ball State, Cunningham led a program with 19 intercollegiate sports and a budget of $12.4 million. In his final year, Ball State completed a $12 million campaign to renovate the football stadium. In raising those funds, Cunningham secured the largest single gift in Ball State athletics history.

From 1988-2002, Cunningham worked in the athletics department at the University of Notre Dame. Cunningham served as associate director of athletics for external affairs from 2000-02. He renegotiated the school's footwear contract, developed a communications and marketing plan, created marketing teams for all 26 varsity sports, increased corporate sponsorship income, created a financial/equity plan for the department and served as chairman of the NCAA Division I Women's Golf Committee.

Cunningham earned his bachelor's and master's degrees in business administration, both from Notre Dame, in 1984 and 1988, respectively. He played on the Irish golf team in 1982-83.

Born in Flint, Mich., and raised in Naples, Fla., Cunningham and his wife, Tina, have four children: Matthew, Michael, John and Sarah.

Through a dedicated commitment to educational interests, competitive athletic programs, and integrity in all areas, the student-athletes, coaches and staff strive to bring credit and recognition to the University.

The mission of the Department is to sponsor a broad-based athletic program that provides educational and athletic opportunities for young men and women to grow and develop, and to serve the interests of the University by complementing and enhancing its diversity and quality of life. Coaches, as educators, are foundational to this process. In keeping with the University's efforts to offer programs of regional and national acclaim, the Department's athletic programs strive for competitive excellence within the Atlantic Coast Conference or other similar institutions. Through its athletic programs, the University seeks to unite students, faculty, staff and alumni in a common and shared experience. The Department seeks to contribute to the diversity of the University by offering opportunities for enhanced racial/ethnic, cultural and geographic representation.

To fulfill this mission, the Department, with the approval of the Board of Trust, has developed principles of operation to provide guidance and direction to its personnel. This Mission Statement and accompanying principles require strong dedication and commitment from all who participate in, coach in and support the Department of Athletics.

When Anson Dorrance was inducted into the National Soccer Hall of Fame on August 2, 2008, it marked one more milestone moment in the career of a man whose coaching prowess became legendary at a young age. Because Dorrance has not yet retired from his coaching career, he was only eligible for election on the "Builders of the Game" ballot and he won election to the Hall of Fame in his first year of eligibility on that ballot.

Like fine wine — with age — the coaching career of Anson Dorrance only gets better. Dorrance proved that again in 2009 as he led his team successfully through one of the most competitive College Cup fields in history as the University of North Carolina won its 21st overall national title and its 20th NCAA crown. Dorrance thus became the first coach in NCAA history to win 20 championships coaching a single sport.

Head coach of the North Carolina women's soccer program since its inception in 1979, Dorrance has built and guided a well-oiled winning machine. Under his direction, the Tar Heels have collected national and conference championships at a stupendous rate, compiled an overall record staggering in its numerical verity, established records likely never to be approached and procured the esteem befitting a dynasty.

At an institution familiar with such incomparable achievement, especially with regard to its storied basketball program, it might be possible to think that Dorrance's accomplishments could somehow fade to the background. But what he has done in Chapel Hill is simply impossible to disregard.

Thus, when an expert panel employed by ESPN announced its list of the Best Coaches of the Past Quarter Century on July 28, 2004 — co-incidentally headed at the No. 1 spot by legendary Carolina basketball coach Dean Smith — it came as no big surprise that another deserving Tar Heel mentor made the list.

That Dorrance, who was ranked No. 24 on the list, was one of only

DORRANCE DATA

Head Coach Anson Dorrance is now in his 34th season as the Tar Heels' head mentor. His teams have an all-time record of 728-44-26 (.929). Under Anson Dorrance, UNC has won 21 national championships, including 20 NCAA crowns and one AIAW title, 20 regular-season ACC titles and 20 ACC Tournament championships. During his tenure, Dorrance's teams are 153-15-5 in ACC regular-season games, 58-1-4 in ACC Tournament matches and 110-8-2 in NCAA Tournament games. UNC is 308-17-8 in home games in its history and 420-27-18 in games played on the road and at neutral sites.

Under Dorrance, UNC has won 92.9 percent of its games overall, 89.9 percent of its ACC regular-season games, 95.2 percent of its ACC Tournament games, 92.5 percent of its NCAA Tournament games, 93.7 percent of its home games and 92.3 percent of its road and neutral site games.

two coaches in the prestigious collection to coach an Olympic sport on the collegiate level only speaks louder about his recognized greatness.

More accolades were bestowed on Dorrance with his induction into the North Carolina Sports Hall of Fame on May 19, 2005 and to the National Soccer Hall of Fame on August 2, 2008. He earned those honors while still in the prime of his coaching career, further testament to his ongoing legacy.

As Dorrance prepares to begin his 34th season as the head women's soccer coach at Carolina in the fall of 2012, even he must be wondering if there is anything left to be accomplished. Chances are excellent that he will find something.

Fitting Accolades From Basketball's Winningest Coach

It is said that greatness recognizes greatness.

Perhaps there is no better example of that than the quote Dean Smith gave Football News Magazine in 1997. Smith was asked by Football News about Carolina's preseason No. 1 ranking in football and what it was like for some sport other than basketball to be ranked No. 1.

Coach Smith's reply? "This is a women's soccer school. We're just trying to keep up with them." Coach Smith's clever retort was his way to give Dorrance his due.

From the person who was then the winningest head coach of all-time in one sport to the winningest head coach of all-time in another sport, the comment struck Dorrance as the ultimate honor. As Dorrance has said, "So much of what we have tried to do in our program is modeled after what Dean Smith has done and accomplished. To have our program compared favorably to his by the man himself is enormously humbling."

Similarly, Dorrance's immense loyalty to Carolina mirrors the loyalty Smith possessed for his adopted school. In 1994, when Dorrance decided not to continue his duties as the head coach of the U.S. Women's National Team, the choice perplexed many.

Some thought he relinquished the honor in order to avoid the pressure that comes with being the leader of what was then the defending World Cup championship squad. But Dorrance's decision had everything to do with allegiance to his alma mater.

The glory that came with coaching the U.S. to the championship in the first-ever Women's World Cup in 1991 was not enough to pull Dorrance away from his true professional love — working full-time with the Tar Heels. He wanted to increase the level of excellence that soccer fans had come to expect from the record-shattering program he had molded. To do that Dorrance knew he would have to dedicate all of his coaching energy to the University. With more elite-level players emerging from high school and club teams than ever before, the playing field in the college game was leveling out; Dorrance knew that for UNC to remain at the top, he would have to throw himself into the process with renewed vigor.

"College programs like ours require a lot of work," says Dorrance. "At that point in time we had been surviving by just doing the minimum amount of work. We certainly couldn't continue to be successful by doing just the minimum. We needed the extra time to stay competitive in an increasingly tough college game.”

A prime example of what Dorrance meant about a leveling playing field is the fact UNC has captured “only” six of the past 14 NCAA championships from 1998-2011 when compared to the era from 1982 through 1997 when Carolina dominated the competition, winning 14 of 16 titles. Despite the improved nature of the competition, UNC’s 21 all-time titles still dominate the second-highest total — three by Notre Dame. There is only one other school — Portland — which has joined UNC and Notre Dame as multiple national champion winners.

Simply Staggering Numbers

It is difficult to comprehend Dorrance taking Carolina’s women’s program to any greater heights than what it has already achieved. Yet, for a program consumed with striving for excellence, a national championship every season remains the goal.

It is this relentless attitude that has helped the Tar Heels win a mind-blowing 21 of the 31 national championships that have been decided in the history of collegiate women’s soccer. Only two other schools in the country have won as many as two titles – Portland in 2002 and 2005 and Notre Dame in 1995, 2004 and 2010. Five other schools have won one each – George Mason (1985), Florida (1998), Santa Clara (2001), USC (2007) and Stanford (2011).

Carolina has also captured 20 of the 24 Atlantic Coast Conference Tournament championships since the sport was given title status by the league in 1988. Carolina’s all-time record in ACC Tournament play is 58-1-4 and the first loss did not come until 2012. UNC also won the initial 1987 ACC title when it was held in a round-robin format at the end of the regular season to determine the champion.

All told, the Tar Heels are 728-44-26 in the 33-year history of the program, a winning percentage of .929.

When Carolina decided to make women’s soccer a varsity sport in 1979, Dorrance became a two-sport head coach as he was already in his third year coaching the men’s team at Carolina. Dorrance’s brilliance at coaching women manifested itself almost immediately as it took just three years before the Tar Heels won a national championship, capturing the 1981 Association for Intercollegiate Athletics for Women (AIAW) national title. Beginning with that championship, the Tar Heels have won 67.7 percent of the titles ever decided in the sport.

Carolina went on to claim three national titles in a row after the NCAA began sponsorship of the sport in the fall of 1982. UNC netted NCAA championship game wins in 1982 over UCF, in 1983 over George Mason and in 1984 over Connecticut. The Tar Heels made it to the NCAA title game in 1985, but lost to George Mason 2-0 on the Patriots’ home field – the first of only eight losses in NCAA Tournament play for Carolina to go along with 108 wins and two ties.

A String of Nine Straight Championships

That loss to George Mason, remarkably, was the last time the Tar Heels lost any game in the decade of the 1980s. Beginning with the season opener in 1986 and continuing into the 1990 season, Dorrance’s Tar Heels won 97 games and tied six matches over a stretch of 103 contests.

In 1986, Carolina defeated Colorado College 2-0 in the finals at Fairfax, Va. A year later, the Tar Heels downed Massachusetts 1-0 on the Minutewomen’s home field in the title game. The 1988 campaign saw the Tar Heels defeat NC State 4-1 in the title game in Chapel Hill. A year later, Carolina defeated Colorado College 2-0 in the championship contest at Raleigh, N.C.

During this era, the ACC also began championship competition with UNC winning the inaugural title in 1987 in a round robin format. NC State claimed the 1988 title on a penalty kick shootout against the Tar Heels but Carolina regained the title in 1989 and has won all but three conference tournament championships since then.

Connecticut snapped a 103-match UNC unbeaten streak that had started in 1986 by defeating the Tar Heels 3-2 in overtime at Storrs, Conn. on September 22, 1990. The Tar Heels rebounded from that lone defeat to win their fifth straight NCAA crown in 1990, avenging the only blemish on their season by beating the Huskies in the final game 6-0 in Chapel Hill.

Tackling The Challenge of the National Team

Along the way, Dorrance’s love of a challenge prompted him to take the coaching job for the U.S. Women’s National Team just a year into its existence in 1986. In a short time, Dorrance took the National Team to the vertex of the world’s most popular sport. On November 30, 1991, Dorrance led the U.S. to a 2-1 win over Norway to claim the initial World Cup championship. The win came just six days after assistant coach Bill Palladino, acting as interim head coach, led UNC to a 3-1 NCAA title game win over Wisconsin for Carolina’s sixth NCAA title in a row.

Dorrance was the architect of the World Cup triumph, a win tinged with a Carolina Blue hue. Not only was Dorrance coaching the U.S.

Carolina’s National Team Coaching Connections

- Anson Dorrance, '73, was the head coach of the U.S. Women’s National Team from 1986-94. He was the head coach of the 1991 World Cup Team which won the gold medal.
- Lauren Gregg, '83, was an assistant coach with the National Team from 1987-99. She was an assistant coach at the 1991 World Cup (gold), 1995 World Cup (bronze), 1996 Olympics (gold) and 1999 World Cup (gold).
- April Heinrichs, '87, was an assistant coach with the National Team from 1995-2000 and the head coach from 2000-05. She served on staffs for the 1995 World Cup (bronze), 1996 Olympics (gold), 1999 World Cup (gold), 2000 Olympics (silver), 2003 World Cup (bronze) and 2004 Olympics (gold).
- Bill Palladino, '72, was an assistant coach with the National Team from 2002-03. He served on the staff which won bronze medal at the 2003 World Cup.
- Marcia McDermott, '87, was an assistant coach with the U.S. National Team. She served on the staff which won the silver medal at the 2011 World Cup.

team, but nine of the 18 players competed collegiately at North Carolina and his assistant coach was former UNC player Lauren Gregg.

The next year, Dorrance assembled what many soccer observers have labeled the best college soccer team in history. That edition of the Tar Heels finished the season undefeated (25-0), claimed the ACC championship for the fourth straight year and won the NCAA title for the seventh consecutive time. Carolina’s 9-1 NCAA championship game victory over Duke was as thorough as the final score would lead one to believe and was a nonpareil way for the Heels to finish the year.

In 1993, UNC won the NCAA championship with an unsullied record of 23-0. The Tar Heels whitewashed George Mason 6-0 before what was then a collegiate women’s soccer record crowd of 5,721 fans at Fetzer Field. Mia Hamm capped her brilliant career at Carolina that day and went on to win unanimous national player of the year honors for the second year in a row.

92 Wins in a Row

Amongst all the coaching jobs that Dorrance has done during his career, the one that culminated in the 1994 NCAA championship might be the most impressive. Dorrance was able to rally the Tar Heels after arch-rival Duke ended a 101-game unbeaten streak by beating Carolina 3-2 on October 19, 1994. The loss came 17 days after Notre Dame had snapped a 92-game Carolina winning streak by playing the Heels to a scoreless tie.

UNC ran the table after the loss to Duke and NCAA Tournament wins over NC State, Duke, Connecticut and Notre Dame added a 13th national title to Dorrance’s coaching resume. Tar Heel midfielder Tisha Venturini was selected as the 1994 National Player of the Year, marking the seventh straight season in which the national player of the year came from the ranks of Carolina players.

The 1994 season presaged a sea change in the college game. With the proliferation of available talent and the vast increase in the number of college programs, parity was quickly becoming a part of the women’s game. While the Tar Heels still led the way in terms of consistent excellence, one of the big news stories of 1995 was the fact Carolina failed to win the national title in women’s soccer for the first time in 10 years. The Tar Heels, seeded No. 1 in the NCAA bracket with a 25-0 mark, were upset by Notre Dame 1-0 in the 1995 NCAA semifinals.

Relinquishing the title to Notre Dame in 1995 only fueled the team’s competitive fire the next season. Dorrance took a team that returned nine starters and molded it into another victorious unit by season’s end. In the ninth game of the season, Notre Dame defeated the Tar Heels 2-1 in overtime and became the first college team to beat UNC in successive meetings. Carolina regrouped and the Tar Heels whipped William & Mary, James Madison and Florida in the opening three rounds of the NCAA tourney before defeating Santa Clara 2-1 on its home field in the semifinals. Two days later UNC proved it was still at the acme of women’s college soccer, beating defending champion Notre Dame 1-0 in overtime to claim the 1996 crown.

A Dynamite Defense in 1997

Dorrance turned in another magnificent coaching job as the Tar Heels wound up in the winner’s circle again in 1997. Honored by Soccer Buzz and Soccer Times as the national coach of the year, Dorrance spearheaded a Carolina campaign that resulted in a 27-0-1 record. The 27 victories were an NCAA record and UNC tied its own NCAA record by shutting out 22 opponents during the campaign.

After seeing the 1998 NCAA title elude the Tar Heels, Carolina fans were able to find solace in the performance of the U.S. team, which competed in the 1999 Women's World Cup. The 20-person roster featured eight Tar Heel players — Mia Hamm, Kristine Lilly, Carla Overbeck, Cindy Parlow, Tisha Venturini, Tracy Noonan, Lorrie Fair and Tiffany Roberts — and UNC alumna Lauren Gregg as a U.S. assistant coach. The Tar Heel-laden composition of the World Cup Team, which reclaimed the championship it had relinquished in 1995, once again stood as a testament to the indelible contributions Dorrance had made to U.S. soccer prominence.

Back-To-Back National Championships

Basking in the glow of a World Cup title featuring so many ties to the program, Carolina's collegiate dominance seemed to be in doubt when just eight games into the 1999 season the Tar Heels sported a 6-2 record. The two losses were the most in a season since 1985. But Dorrance led Carolina to 18 wins in a row and another NCAA championship. Lorrie Fair earned national player of the year accolades, but in many regards the 1999 team was a squad without star presence, just incredible unity of purpose.

A year later, the 2000 Carolina team suffered the program's most losses in a season in 20 years but again won ACC and NCAA titles. Three times in six NCAA Tournament games, Carolina trailed its opponent 1-0 midway through the second half. All three times, the Tar Heels came from behind to win 2-1 in regulation time en route to another national title.

After a two-year hiatus from the awards stand, UNC reclaimed the NCAA title in 2003 with its most dominant team in a decade. Carolina became the first team since the Tar Heels of 1993 to go undefeated and untied, finishing with a perfect 27-0 mark in winning its 15th straight ACC title and its 18th national championship. Led by co-national players of the year Lindsay Tarpley and Catherine Reddick, Carolina out-scored its opponents 132-11, including an amazing 32-0 margin in six NCAA Tournament matches.

In 2006 Dorrance turned in one of the best coaching jobs of his career in piloting UNC to its 19th national championship. He was the unanimous choice as the national coach of the year after leading Carolina to a 27-1 balance sheet. The Tar Heels accomplished these heroics while starting six freshmen for most of the season. In fact, seven freshmen took the field for the start of the second half of UNC's 2-1 NCAA championship game win over Notre Dame. It was a team which lost its season opener at Texas A&M, its first setback in a lidlifter since 1983, and then stormed back to win 27 matches in succession.

In 2008, UNC captured its 20th national championship with a team that started 4-1-1 but went 21-0-1 in its final 22 matches. Led by national player of the year Casey Nogueira, who led the nation in scoring with 25 goals, Carolina defeated two undefeated teams in the College Cup, beating UCLA 1-0 and Notre Dame 2-1, to win the NCAA title. Nogueira scored two second-half goals to rally UNC past the Fighting Irish in the final game.

A year later, the Tar Heels turned in one of the best defensive efforts in school history en route to a 21st national crown. Senior defender Whitney Engen was a National Player of the Year honoree and the defensive MVP of the ACC and she led a team that allowed only 12 goals and posted 19 shutouts. Carolina allowed only two goals in the final 11 games of the season as the Tar Heels rallied to win the ACC Tournament hardware over Florida State 3-0 and the NCAA Tournament title over Stanford 1-0.

Dorrance's Start In Coaching

Ironically, Dorrance's career plans did not originally include coaching a women's team. He began his coaching career at Carolina as the designated head coach for the men's team in 1976 during Marvin Allen's last year as head coach. He took over as men's coach the following year and served for 12 years in that role, posting a 172-65-21 record. His team won the ACC Tournament championship in 1987. He took the Tar Heels to the 1987 NCAA College Cup semifinals and the second round of the 1988 NCAA Tournament. Dorrance's .708 winning percentage is tops among Carolina's men's soccer coaches all-time and his 172 wins rank third in school history behind Elmar Bolowich, whom Dorrance brought to Carolina as an assistant men's coach in 1987, and Dr. Marvin Allen, the founder of the program in 1947, and the man who coached Dorrance at Carolina.

Since being named the women's head coach in 1979, Carolina has a 728-44-26 record under Dorrance and only six times in 33 years have the Tar Heels lost more than two games in a single season. The Tar Heels' 20 NCAA crowns are more than any other women's NCAA Division I sports program in the history (Stanford women's tennis is second with 16), and the 21 national championships overall are more than any single sports program in ACC history, men's or women's.

A Host of National Players of the Year

Over the years, 17 different Tar Heels have been named national players of the year under Dorrance's direction — April Heinrichs in 1984 and 1986, Shannon Higgins in 1988 and 1989, Kristine Lilly in 1990 and 1991, Mia Hamm in 1992 and 1993, Tisha Venturini in 1994, Debbie Keller in 1995 and 1996, Staci Wilson in 1995, Cindy Parlow in 1996, 1997 and 1998, Robin Confer in 1997, Lorrie Fair in 1999, Meredith Florance in 2000, Lindsay Tarpley in 2003, Catherine Reddick in 2003, Heather O'Reilly in 2006, Yael Averbuch in 2006, Casey Nogueira in 2008 and Whitney Engen in 2009.

North Carolina begins the 2012 season with a 308-17-8 all-time home record. In the program's 33-year history, totaling 798 games, Carolina has shut out opponents 512 times and has been held scoreless in just 30 games.

Coach of the Year Honors Galore

Dorrance has been named national coach of the year for coaching both women and men. He earned women's national honors in 1982, 1986, 1997, 2000, 2003 and 2006 and he was named men's national coach of the year in 1987.

Dorrance has been named the Southeast Region coach of the year in 1989, 1996, 1997, 2001, 2003, 2006 and 2008. In 1987, 1990, 1991, 1993, 1996, 2001, 2003, 2004, 2006 and 2008, he was named the ACC Women's Soccer Coach of the Year.

In 1996, Dorrance received the highest honor possible from the National Soccer Coaches Association of America when he won the Walt Chyzowych Award for lifetime coaching achievement. In 2007, he won the Bill Jeffrey Award from the NSCAA for raising intercollegiate soccer to new heights through his long-term dedication to the game. In 2011, the NSCAA accorded him its prestigious NSCAA Honor Award.

Honors from His Peers at Carolina & Beyond

Dorrance was inducted into the Order of the Golden Fleece in 1988, Carolina's highest honorary society which includes Carolina students, faculty and staff.

In 1994, Dorrance added another cherished honor when the athletic department designated him a "Priceless Gem." This honor is reserved only for those individuals who have contributed in extraordinary ways to the successful athletic climate at the University.

In 1995, Dorrance's program was profiled in a full-length documentary film entitled, "Dynasty." The movie focused in particular on the Tar Heels' amazing nine-year national championship run from 1986 through 1994, and it included in-depth interviews with both current and former Tar Heel players. Another documentary about the UNC program, "Winning Isn't Everything," was released in DVD format following the 2007 season.

In the fall of 2003, Sports Illustrated On Campus magazine named UNC's women's soccer program as the greatest college dynasty of all-time.

Dorrance has also coauthored two books. He combined with Tim Nash to write "Training Soccer Champions" in 1996. It sold out in its first printing and did equally well in its second press run. Dorrance also co-authored the award-winning "The Vision of a Champion" with Gloria Averbuch. It was published in 2003 and almost immediately went to second and third printings. In 2006, "The Man Watching" by former Sports Illustrated writer Tim Crothers debuted to smashing reviews and amazing sales success.

Following the U.S. victory in the Women's World Cup in 1991, Dorrance received an Honorary All-America Award, one of the most prestigious of its kind, from the NSCAA.

In 1991, Soccer America named Dorrance one of the 20 most influential men in American soccer during the previous two decades. Soccer America followed that up in 1995 by naming Dorrance as one of the 25 most influential people in the history of American soccer. Dorrance was one of only three coaches on that list and the only women's coach tapped.

In 2002, Dorrance was selected for the North Carolina Soccer Hall of Fame, joining his mentor, Dr. Marvin Allen, who was in the initial class inducted into the Hall.

Dorrance In His College Years

A 1974 University of North Carolina graduate with a Bachelor of Arts degree in English and philosophy, Dorrance originally enrolled at St. Mary's University in San Antonio, Texas, where he spent one semester studying and playing soccer. He then transferred to Carolina to play for Marvin Allen.

Dorrance's natural gifts on the pitch led to his selection to the All-ACC Team three times as an undergraduate and he won All-South Region honors in 1973. He was named in 2002 as one of the Top 50 men's soccer players in ACC history. He was also one of the top intramural sports performers on the Carolina campus during his days as an undergraduate.

After graduation, he organized youth soccer leagues in both Connecticut and North Carolina. He was the founder of both the North Carolina Youth Soccer Association and the North Carolina Senior Soccer Association.

Dorrance has an "A" level coaching license from the U.S. Soccer Federation. He was a charter member of the NCAA Women's Soccer Committee and he also served as the women's chairman of the Intercollegiate Soccer Association of America. He is the former chairman of the NCAA Men's and Women's Soccer Rules Committee and one of the few coaches in the country to qualify as a national staff coach for the U.S. Soccer Federation and the National Soccer Coaches Association of America. He formerly was involved in training coaches and awarding coaching licenses as part of the NSCAA Coaching Academy. In the summer of 2003, he was named to the Board of Directors of the National Soccer Hall of Fame.

Dorrance's summer soccer camps for women are the most popular in the nation. The camps sell out well in advance. Dorrance has even hosted a version of the famous camp in England.

Dorrance also made a seamless transition to his role as the color analyst on the WUSA Game of the Week on Saturday afternoons as shown on PAX TV from 2001-03.

The Dorrance Family

Dorrance was born on April 9, 1951, in Bombay, India, and he is married to M'Liss Gary Dorrance. The couple celebrated their 38th wedding anniversary in August 2012.

M'Liss is a former professional ballet dancer who teaches at the Ballet School of Chapel Hill, which she cofounded in 1980. She was retired in 2007 from Duke University where she taught and served the Dance Program for 32 years. When M'Liss is not watching soccer games on the weekends she is rehearsing her choreography for Chapel Hill Dance Theatre productions.

The Dorrances have three children.

Michelle, a graduate of New York University, is an internationally renowned rhythm tap dancer residing in New York City where she is on the faculty at Broadway Dance Center. Michelle was featured in the cover article of the March 2008 issue of Dance Magazine and on the cover of Dance Teacher magazine in 2012. She also performed for four years in STOMP, NYC, the off-Broadway hit, following a year in the national tour production. Michelle won a 2012 New York Dance and Theater Award, better known as the "Bessie", for "Outstanding Production of a work that stretches the boundaries of a traditional or culturally specific form." Most recently, she was named one of the recipients of a 2012 Princess Grace Award for Choreography.

Natalie, a UNC graduate, is currently on leave from the Greensboro public schools. She and attorney husband David Harris, a UNC law school graduate, are the proud parents of Finley Dorrance Harris. The Dorrance family's first grandchild was born in April 2009.

Donovan, a 2009 graduate of Chapel Hill High School, is a senior at Carolina and continues to pursue interests in philosophy and music.

Dorrance's soccer origins stem from his youth when he lived overseas. He resided in India, Kenya, Ethiopia, Singapore, Belgium and Switzerland while growing up. His family moved all around the world following his father's assignments as an international businessman. Additional members of the Dorrance Clan residing in Chapel Hill include Anson's mother, Peggy, and his brother Pete, a co-owner of six prominent Triangle area restaurants, and Pete's wife Dolly Hunter, a former UNC head field hockey and softball coach. All are avid fans of the UNC women's soccer team.

Carolina's Influences On The Game

- Current and former UNC players have been staples on World Cup rosters as both players and coaches. The 1991 U.S. World Cup roster featured nine players and two coaches; the 1995 U.S. World Cup roster featured seven players and two coaches; the 1999 U.S. World Cup roster featured eight players and one coach; the 2003 U.S. World Cup roster featured six players and two coaches; the 2007 U.S. World Cup roster featured five players as well as one former player being on the Canadian roster; the 2011 U.S. World Cup roster featured two U.S. players and one coach and there was one player on the Canadian roster.
- Olympic Team rosters have also been filled with Tar Heel coaches and players. The 1996 U.S. Olympic Team included seven players and two coaches; the 2000 U.S. Olympic Team included six players and two coaches; the 2004 U.S. team included six players and two coaches; in the 2008 Olympic Games four players competed on the U.S. squad and one player was on the Canadian roster; in 2012, two Tar Heels competed for the U.S. and one for Canada.
- 50 Carolina players have earned caps with the United States National Team since its founding in 1985.
- Nineteen current and former players are listed as members of National Team player pools in 2012. This group includes six on the U.S. National Team, two on the U23 National Team, five on the U20 National Team, two on the U18 National Team, one on the U17 National Team, two on the Canadian National Team and one on the New Zealand National Team.
- North Carolina featured the largest alumnae class of players drafted by teams for the inaugural season of Women's Professional Soccer (WPS) in 2009 with 13. Four Tar Heels played on WPS champion Sky Blue FC in 2009. In 2010, four Tar Heels were taken in the top eight picks of the WPS draft and seven players were chosen overall. In the 2010 season, UNC was represented by 17 players in WPS. In the 2011 season, UNC was represented by 15 players in WPS. In 2011, three Tar Heels — Yael Averbuch, Whitney Engen and Ashlyn Harris — were members of the WPS champion Western New York Flash.

BILL PALLADINO

In 2012, Bill Palladino returns for his 33rd year as the chief assistant coach, demonstrating the tremendous loyalty he has to the program he helped head coach Anson Dorrance shape at UNC. Palladino's success in developing brilliant defensive schemes has been a key element in leading Tar Heel teams to 20 Atlantic Coast Conference Tournament championships, 20 ACC regular-season titles and 21 national collegiate titles since he joined the staff in 1980.

The defenses he has coached at Carolina have allowed only 399 goals in the 798 games the Tar Heels have played in their history, an average of only 0.50 goals per game. Carolina's defense was the key to the success of the 2009 team which outscored its opponents 63-12 en route to winning UNC's 21st national championship. The Tar Heels' patented flat back three defense of Kristi Eveland, Whitney Engen and Rachel Givan, along with goalkeeper Ashlyn Harris, recorded 19 shutouts on the season as the Tar Heels went 23-3-1. UNC posted a pair of long shutout streaks in 2009 as Tar Heel opponents went without goals for both eight and seven game stretches. The team allowed only two goals in nine post-season contests.

Under Palladino's expert direction, Carolina defensive units have consistently been a critical cog in Tar Heel runs to national championships. In 1987, the Tar Heels set an NCAA record on the defensive end of the field unlikely to ever be matched. The team allowed only two goals all season. Goalkeeper Anne Sherow led a team effort which produced 22 shutouts in 24 games. Those 22 shutouts stand as an NCAA record that has only been equaled once and that was by another UNC team exactly one decade later. While going 27-0-1 in 1997, the Tar Heels posted 22 shutouts in the team's 28 games.

In 2003, Palladino worked his magic again on the UNC defense. That defense did not allow a single goal in six NCAA Tournament games as the Tar Heels outscored their opponents 32-0. It stands as the most efficient defensive effort ever in an NCAA Tournament.

In 2002-03, he served as the top assistant coach for the U.S. Women's National Team before retiring from that role in January 2004. In that capacity, Palladino served as the chief assistant to U.S. National Team head coach April Heinrichs. In the fall of 2003, Palladino split his duties between UNC and the National Team as it competed in the 2003 Women's World Cup. The U.S. women won the bronze medal in that competition.

Palladino came aboard as an assistant coach during the program's second year in existence and has been coaching along side Dorrance through the last 32 years.

In 1991, Palladino was named South Region Coach of the Year by the National Soccer Coaches Association of America. He took over the helm for much of that season as interim head coach while Dorrance directed the efforts of the U.S. Women's National Team in its successful quest to win the 1991 Women's World Cup title in China. Palladino was head coach of the Tar Heels for 10 games that season and Carolina was victorious in each contest, including three games in the NCAA Tournament. North Carolina won the 10th of its 21 national titles with a 3-1 win over Wisconsin on November 24, 1991 at Fetzer Field. He became the first assistant coach to have ever won head coaching regional coach-of-the-year honors.

"For me, Bill is the reason I enjoy my job so much," says head coach Anson Dorrance. "He is the reason the players enjoy the program so much. Bill is a big part of the reason there is such great team chemistry.

"Bill is a team builder. He has helped us develop a philosophy toward player development that encourages an informal but effective rapport between players and coaches," Dorrance continues. "Bill is a terrific counterbalance against my fiery and intense nature. That balance makes our program unique and fortunately very successful."

Palladino's coaching career with the Carolina women's team began in 1980. A Chapel Hill native, Palladino joined the staff that year after three seasons as an assistant coach – also to Dorrance – with the UNC men's soccer program from 1977-79.

The 61-year-old Palladino holds an "A" coaching license from the U.S. Soccer Federation. He was head coach of the South team at the 1995 U.S. Olympic Festival in Denver, Colo. He also served as head coach of the Raleigh Wings in the W League in the late 1990s. Under his stewardship, the team completed an undefeated season in 1998 and added a second W League crown in 1999.

At Carolina, his duties include on-field coaching, recruiting, directing camps, scouting and administration. He is also in charge of putting together UNC's non-conference schedule each year.

A 1973 UNC graduate with a Bachelor of Arts degree in psychology, Palladino played varsity men's soccer at Carolina for three seasons from 1970-72 under the aegis of legendary coach Marvin Allen.

Palladino expanded his already-vast repertoire of skills from 2001-03 when he served as a sideline reporter and color commentator for national and regional WUSA telecasts.

Palladino has two children from his first marriage. Twins Bill and Suzi live in Chapel Hill, N.C. and San Francisco, Calif., respectively.

Palladino is currently married to former Tar Heel soccer star Wendy Gebauer Palladino, who earned All-America honors while playing at UNC from 1985-88 and was a member of the U.S. Team which won the initial World Cup in 1991. Bill and Wendy are the parents of Zachary Ryan, who was born on January 14, 2005.

TOM SANDER

A vital component of the UNC women's soccer scene since 1992, Tom Sander was named the program's Director of Women's Soccer Operations in the spring of 1998. Previously, he served as the head student manager and an administrative assistant for six years in the women's soccer office.

Sander coordinates all team games operations at home and on the road, organizes team travel and serves as a liaison for the program with the University administration, Educational Foundation, program scholarship donors, soccer alumni and the Friends of Carolina Soccer.

A native of Lancaster, Pa., Sander attended Hempfield High School and then graduated from UNC with a B.S. degree in biology in 1993.

CHRIS DUCAR

The 2012 season marks Chris Ducar's 17th year as the goalkeeper coach and recruiting coordinator for the UNC women's soccer program. Ducar's prowess as a coach was recognized at the conclusion of the 2006 season when he was named the national assistant coach of the year by the National Soccer Coaches Association of America. He also won the same assistant coach of the year award for the NSCAA's South Region.

Ducar has helped lead Carolina to NCAA championships in 1996, 1997, 1999, 2000, 2003, 2006, 2008 and 2009 and to ACC Tournament championships in 13 of the past 16 years.

A member of the Olympic Development Program Staff in Regions I and III, Ducar is a National Clinician for the U.S. Youth Soccer Association and belongs to the National Soccer Coaches Association of America.

Ducar has been a mainstay in coaching U.S. women's national teams in international events. He was the goalkeeper coach for the U21 National Team which won the 1999 Nordic Cup title in Iceland. Former UNC player Siri Mullinix was the championship keeper for the U.S. in that tournament, and she was the starter for the U.S. National Team in the 2000 Olympics when the Americans won the silver medal.

Ducar served as goalkeeper coach for the 1998 U.S. U21 women's national team which competed in the Nordic Cup. The United States won the silver medal in that competition. He also served as goalkeeper coach for the 1997 U.S. U21 national team that won the gold medal in the 1997 Nordic Cup in Denmark.

In addition to his duties as an assistant coach at UNC, Ducar has also served as an assistant coach for the women's team at UNC Greensboro from 1995-98 on a part-time basis before he became a full-time coach at Carolina. In 1995, he was the goalkeeper coach at Greensboro College. In 1990-91, he was an assistant coach at UC-Santa Cruz.

During his time at Carolina, Ducar has tutored three first-team All-America goalkeepers in Siri Mullinix, Jenni Branam and Aly Winget.

Mullinix was a three-year starter for UNC, and Branam and Winget were both four-year starting goalkeepers. Winget set the ACC records for solo shutouts in a season with 16 in 2003 and in a career with 35. In 2006, Anna Rodenbough nearly equaled Winget's mark as she posted 15 solo shutouts in helping the Tar Heels win the NCAA championship. He did one of his best coaching jobs of his career in 2009 as senior Ashlyn Harris, a current member of the U.S. National Team, led Carolina to another national title as Carolina posted 19 shutouts and allowed a mere 0.44 goals per game against the nation's toughest schedule. Harris was named first-team All-ACC as well as an Academic All-America.

In the summer of 2000, Ducar served as the head coach for the North Carolina women's state team that won the regional championship and advanced to compete in the Donnelly Cup national tournament over Thanksgiving weekend.

Ducar graduated from the University of Missouri in 1990 with a Bachelor of Arts degree in political science. He was a Dean's List student at Mizzou and went on to earn a teaching credential from San Jose State University in 1995.

Ducar played on the club soccer team at Missouri from 1986-90. Post-collegiately, he played for Inter A.C. in Fremont, Calif., helping the team claim the 1990 Premier Division title. He was also a member of the San Francisco Bay Blackhawks of the APSL when they won the 1991 national championship. He played for the San Jose Oaks, the 1992 U.S. Open Cup champions.

Former national director for Soccer Plus Goalkeeper Schools in Connecticut, he spent much of his time traveling the United States organizing camps and clinics for Soccer Plus. He has also served as director of Go For Gold Soccer Schools, World Soccer and Santa Cruz Soccer Camps in California and for David Brcic's Goalkeeper Schools in Missouri.

Ducar holds coaching licenses from the National Soccer Coaches Association of America (premier license) and the United States Soccer Federation (national "A" license). Ducar is on both the United States Soccer Federation and National Soccer Coaches Association of America National Goalkeeping Staffs.

BRITTANI BARTOK

After three years as an outstanding forward and gifted playmaker for the Tar Heels, Brittani Bartok joined the University of North Carolina women's soccer coaching staff in 2011 as the undergraduate assistant coach. Bartok returns to the UNC staff again in 2012 in a similar role.

Bartok is a Union, N.J. native who scored nine goals and had 14 assists in her UNC career.

She will assist with team video functions while also maintaining the team's YouTube and Twitter accounts. Bartok is an art major at UNC.

CINDY CONE

Cindy Cone is beginning her seventh year as the volunteer assistant coach for the women's soccer program at UNC. Parlow was one of the greatest soccer players in both Carolina and U.S. Women's National Team history.

She played at Carolina from 1995-98, winning a pair of national championships and twice winning the Hermann Trophy as the National Player of the Year. Parlow made her first appearance for the U.S. Women's National Team in 1996 and played 10 years on the squad, winning Olympic gold medals in 1996 and 2004 and a Women's World Cup title in 1999. She earned a silver medal at the 2000 Olympics and a bronze at the 2003 World Cup.

She concluded her career with 158, the ninth most in United States Women's National team history, and 75 goals, fifth best total.

On July 28, 2007, she married John Cone, owner of Cone Fitness Training and Consulting. She is Director of Coaching, Senior Girls Programs (U15-U18) for a Triangle United Soccer Association.

A Program of Remarkable Consistency

The University of North Carolina women's soccer program is one of the most successful sport programs in the history of college athletics. In its first 33 years, Carolina has won 21 national championships and played in 26 of 31 College Cups (final four teams) sanctioned by the Association for Intercollegiate Athletics for Women (IAAW) in 1981 and National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) from 1982-2011.

Under head coach Anson Dorrance, who assumed the coaching reins when the program was elevated to varsity status in 1979, the Tar Heels have staked a claim as one of the greatest dynasties in intercollegiate athletics history. In fact it was judged the greatest dynasty in the opinion of Sports Illustrated On Campus magazine, which featured the Tar Heels on its cover in 2003.

Heading into the 2012 season, the Tar Heels have posted a 728-44-26 overall record in the history of the sport. When Carolina defeated Notre Dame in the 2006 national championship game, the program officially reached a point where it had won 600 more games than it had lost for the first time in history. It accomplished that feat while having played only 675 matches. It will soon reach a point when it has won 700 more games than it has lost.

Carolina won the first official national championship, the Association for Intercollegiate Athletics for Women (IAAW) title, in 1981 and has since won a total of 20 of 30 NCAA championships with titles coming in 1982, 1983, 1984, 1986, 1987, 1988, 1989, 1990, 1991, 1992, 1993, 1994, 1996, 1997, 1999, 2000, 2003, 2006, 2008 and 2009. The only 10 years since 1981 in which the Tar Heels did not win the national crown were 1985 when they lost to George Mason in the NCAA championship game, 1995 when they lost to eventual NCAA champion Notre Dame in the NCAA semifinals, 1998 when they fell to Florida in the NCAA championship game, 2001 when Santa Clara beat Carolina in the championship contest, 2002 when they were upset by Santa Clara in the NCAA semifinals, 2004 when Notre Dame became the first school other than Carolina to win more than one national championship, 2005 when Portland won its second title, 2007 when USC claimed its first championship, 2010 when Notre Dame downed the Tar Heels in the third round en route to winning its third title and 2011 when Stanford claimed its first NCAA crown. In eight of the last nine occasions when UNC has failed to advance in NCAA play, the games have either been decided by one goal or resulted in a tie where the advancing team earned its way to the next round in a penalty kick shootout.

In fact, Notre Dame's 4-1 victory over North Carolina on November 20, 2010 broke a 25-year streak during which the Tar Heels had never suffered a defeat by more than one goal. Prior to that loss to the Fighting Irish, the last time Carolina lost a game by a margin of more than one goal was on November 24, 1985 when George Mason beat UNC 2-0 in the NCAA championship game. Carolina had played 607 games since that loss and 55,440 minutes and 41 seconds had ticked off stadium clocks since the Tar Heels last fell by more than a single goal.

Carolina's women's soccer program has won 20 NCAA titles. When UNC won the 2009 NCAA title over Stanford, Carolina women's soccer became the first women's sports program to claim 20 NCAA crowns and head coach Anson Dorrance became the first coach in NCAA history to earn 20 titles coaching a single sport – men or women.

The Tar Heels' 21 total national championships are more than any other sports program has won, men's or women's, in Atlantic Coast Conference history. In addition, UNC women's soccer teams have won 21 of the 25 official ACC championships decided since league play started in 1987.

An Amazing Array of Talent

Tar Heel players over the past 33 years have regularly earned the distinction of being named All-Americans as either first-, second-, third-team or honorable mention choices and most of those players have won All-America honors in multiple seasons during their Carolina careers. In 33 campaigns, Carolina has had 70 selections to either the NSCAA coaches or Soccer America first-team All-America squads, 43 more than second-place Notre Dame on the list.

Seventeen players — April Heinrichs, Shannon Higgins, Kristine Lilly, Mia Hamm, Tisha Venturini, Debbie Keller, Staci Wilson, Cindy Parlow, Robin Confer, Lorrie Fair, Meredith Florance, Catherine Reddick, Lindsay Tarpley, Heather O'Reilly, Yael Averbuch, Casey

Nogueira and Whitney Engen — have been named the National Player of the Year in at least one season, some winning those honors on multiple occasions. Lori Henry, Shannon Higgins, Kristine Lilly, Mia Hamm, Tisha Venturini, Cindy Parlow, Lorrie Fair, Lindsay Tarpley, Heather O'Reilly, Yael Averbuch, Casey Nogueira, Whitney Engen and Crystal Dunn have been saluted as the Atlantic Coast Conference's Player of the Year, Offensive Player of the Year or Defensive Player of the Year. Carolina has had a total of 139 selections to the first- or second-team All-Atlantic Coast Conference squads since the league began sponsorship of the sport in 1987, outflanking any other league school in that regard by 66 selections. UNC has also boasted the Most Valuable Player of the ACC Tournament in 20 of the 24 tournaments held since first event in 1988.

The numbers associated with the program's success boggle the mind. Five Tar Heels have been named ACC Freshman of the Year and eight have been named National Freshman Player of the Year. Anson Dorrance has been named national coach of the year on seven occasions and ACC coach of the year 10 times.

There are still more numbers that illustrate the dominance of the program. Twelve Carolina women's soccer players have won the Patterson Medal as Carolina's outstanding senior athlete, the most recent honorees being Whitney Engen and Casey Nogueira, co-winners in 2009-10. The recipient of the Mary Garber Award as the Female Athlete of the Year in the ACC has been a Tar Heel women's soccer player seven times, including Whitney Engen in 2010. UNC has had 142 selections for All-Tournament honors at the IAAW or NCAA national College Cups since 1981. The Tar Heels have boasted choices for the offensive, defensive or overall Most Valuable Player at the NCAA Tournament 32 times. On 92 occasions, Tar Heels have been tapped as All-ACC Tournament selections since that honor squad

Lasting Relationship With The U.S. National Team

Many Carolina players have continued their playing careers as members of the U.S. Women's National Team. Since the founding of the National Team program by the U.S. Soccer Federation in 1985, a total of 50 different Carolina players have earned caps with the full U.S. National Team. Several other former Tar Heels have gone on to play for the national teams of other countries, including those of Canada, Denmark, The Netherlands, Iceland and Norway. Dorrance was the chief architect behind the initial success of the U.S. Women's National Team, having coached that squad from its second year of existence in 1986 until he stepped down in 1994 to concentrate solely on his head coaching duties at Carolina.

Under Dorrance's brilliant coaching guidance, the U.S. won the first-ever Women's World Cup Championship in China in November 1991. Half of the 18-woman 1991 U.S. roster played collegiately for the Tar Heels. Seven players who competed collegiately in Chapel Hill were on the 1995 U.S. Team that captured third place at the World Cup. During the summer of 1996 at the Centennial Olympic Games, the U.S. roster was again filled with Tar Heel connections as the Americans captured the gold medal. Both of that team's assistant coaches and seven of the 16 players were Tar Heels, giving the gold medal the U.S. won a pronounced Carolina Blue tint. In the summer of 1999, eight more UNC players competed for the U.S. team that recaptured the World Cup title by outscoring China 5-4 on penalty kicks in the Rose Bowl in Pasadena, Calif. Six more Tar Heels played for the 2000 U.S. Olympic Team that won the silver medal in Sydney, Australia under the leadership of head coach April Heinrichs, an '87 Tar Heel alumna.

The 2003 U.S. World Cup roster featured six Tar Heel players as the Americans claimed the bronze medal at that event. Six Tar Heels were also named by Heinrichs to the U.S. Team that played in the 2004 Olympic Games in Athens, Greece. That team won the second gold medal for the U.S. in Olympic competition. The 2007 World Cup was played in China with five former Tar Heel players on the U.S. squad and one UNC player on the Canadian team. The Americans won the bronze medal in that event. In 2008, four Tar Heels were on the U.S. Olympic Team and one was on the Canadian side with the Americans winning gold for the third time in four Olympic soccer tournaments. The Americans captured the silver medal at the 2011 World Cup in Germany. Former Tar Heels Heather O'Reilly and Tobin Heath were members of the U.S. Team while 2007 alumna Robyn Gayle played for the Canadian side. All three of those former Tar Heels — O'Reilly, Heath and Gayle — were members of their respective teams at the 2012 Olympic Games.

It All Started Way Back When

Having players compete in the World Cup and the Olympics was a passing thought when the program first began playing on a varsity level in 1979. The Tar Heels played their first game, a 12-0 win over the Duke University club soccer team on September 20, 1979. That first season saw Carolina compile a 10-2 overall record. Janet Rayfield, still the Tar Heels' third all-time leading scorer with 223 points, scored 30 goals that season.

In 1980, the Tar Heels won 21 of 26 games and were again led in scoring by Rayfield, who had 25 goals. Midfielder Nancy Clary became the first Tar Heel player in history to earn first-team All-America honors. The five losses equal the most Carolina has ever suffered in one season, matched only by the 2011 team. The 2007 team had four losses on its ledger and the 2000, 2009 and 2010 teams had three losses on their record. No other Tar Heel squad has ever lost more than two matches.

The 1981 season was an exciting year for the women's college game as the first-ever national champion was crowned during a 12-team, four-day tournament in Chapel Hill. The Tar Heels provided their fans with many exciting moments during the course of the season, scoring a school record 172 goals. Led by 36-goal scorer Stephanie Zeh and getting 30 more tallies from Rayfield, UNC averaged an astounding 7.48 goals per game.

Following a 19-0 regular season and a win over Virginia in the Association for Intercollegiate Athletics for Women (AIAW) regional tournament, the Tar Heels swept the AIAW National Tournament. After receiving a first-round bye as the top seed, Carolina defeated Massachusetts 6-0, Connecticut 5-0 and UCF 1-0 to take the championship. In the title game, the Tar Heels outshot the Golden Knights 30-8, scoring on a Diane Beatty goal off a Kathy Kelly corner kick with 19:36 left in the first half.

The NCAA Dynasty Kicks Off

The NCAA became the sport's governing body in 1982 and the Tar Heels celebrated by winning their second national championship in a row. Carolina opened the season with 10 consecutive victories to run its winning streak to 33 games over two seasons, but then it dropped back-to-back decisions to Missouri-St. Louis and Cortland State. Following that second loss, the Tar Heels won their final nine games, culminating in an NCAA title with a 2-0 win over UCF. Amy Machin's 22 goals and 59 points led the team in scoring and she notched one of the two goals in the championship game victory. Betsy Johnson came off the bench to score off a rebound late in the first half for the winning goal.

The 1983 campaign brought the arrival of April Heinrichs to the Carolina campus. The first dominant women's soccer player in the American game, who would later coach the U.S. National Team from 2000-04, Heinrichs was the most successful player of the 1980s in collegiate soccer and one of the early stars of the U.S. National Team. In her freshman season, Heinrichs led the Tar Heels to their third straight national title as she scored 18 goals and totaled 47 points. Amy Machin was again amongst the team's leaders in scoring with 19 goals. Only a 3-1 loss at Connecticut in the opening game of the season prevented UNC from having another perfect season. Carolina claimed its third title in a row as Heinrichs scored two goals in a convincing 4-0 win over George Mason in the NCAA championship match at Orlando, Fla.

In 1984, the Tar Heels were the No. 1-ranked team in the nation from season's start to season's finish and they capped their fourth straight national title campaign with a 2-0 win over Connecticut at Fetzer Field in the NCAA title game. The 1984 season marked the first of seven times UNC would play host to the NCAA College Cup at Fetzer Field. Heinrichs, the Intercollegiate Soccer Association of America (ISAA) National Player of the Year, led the team with 23 goals and 13 assists and Joan Dunlap was second on the squad with 21 goals and 10 assists. Carolina went 24-0-1 and won its first 17 games to run its winning streak to a then NCAA-record 36 games.

George Mason ended the 36-game winning streak by playing the Heels to a 1-1 tie on October 20, 1984. When College Cup weekend rolled around, the Tar Heels were taken to overtime in the national semifinals by California, but an Amy Machin goal with 9:05 left in the second extra period propelled the Tar Heels into the NCAA final against Connecticut. The championship game was played in front of 3,500 fans with Heinrichs and Dunlap scoring second-half goals to provide the Tar Heels with a 2-0 victory and a fourth straight national title.

All Good Things Must Come to an End

The NCAA championship trophy took a one-year hiatus from Chapel Hill in 1985 as the Tar Heels lost the national championship game to host George Mason 2-0. Led by a 50-point season from April Heinrichs and a team-leading 19 goals from Carrie Serwetnyk, the Tar Heels finished the season 18-2-1. The 1985 campaign was one of just eight seasons out of a total of 33 in which Carolina has failed to win 20 games in a season. In fact, since going 10-2 in that initial 1979 campaign, the Amazing Carolina Soccer Fun Fact...

Only six seasons with more than two losses

UNC has played 33 years of varsity soccer from 1979 through 2011. Only six teams have lost more than two matches in a season. In fact, only three teams have lost more than three games in a season. The 1980 team finished 21-5, the 2000 team was 21-3, the 2007 team was 19-4-1, the 2009 team was 23-3-1, the 2010 team was 19-3-2 and the 2011 team was 13-5-2. Despite the three losses in 2000 and again in 2009, Carolina went on to win the NCAA championship each of those years.

CAROLINA 2012 women's soccer

Tar Heels have won at least 18 games in 30 of the past 31 years.

After opening the 1985 season with a 3-3 draw against George Mason, Carolina ran off 12 straight wins and raised its collegiate record unbeaten streak to 57 games. Massachusetts eventually ended the streak with a 2-0 win over UNC in Amherst, Mass. Carolina went on to meet George Mason in Fairfax, Va., in the NCAA championship game. The Patriots scored a goal in each half and sent the Tar Heels home without the championship trophy for the first time. At that time no one suspected that Carolina would not lose another game for five years and a stretch of over 100 games. In fact, the Tar Heels would never taste defeat again in the 1980s after that title game loss to GMU.

The 1986 campaign proved to be a season of redemption for the Tar Heels as seniors April Heinrichs and Marcia McDermott were determined to go out as winners. In 1986, Heinrichs was named National Player of the Year for a second time in her career, scoring a career-best 28 goals and totaling 69 points. McDermott set what was then the Carolina single-season record with 23 assists. The Tar Heels and George Mason met again, this time in the national semifinals, and Carolina came out on top 3-2 in overtime. Wendy Gebauer had two goals for Carolina and Heinrichs tallied the winner 5:50 into the first overtime period. Gebauer and Tracey Bates scored goals in the title game the next day against Colorado College in a 2-0 win. The Tar Heels found themselves back in familiar territory — atop the victory stand after the NCAA championship game.

Shannon Higgins' Postseason Fireworks

The 1987 campaign was a year dominated by defense as a stifling Carolina unit allowed only two goals during the entire season and posted an NCAA record 22 shutouts, a mark equaled only once since—by the 1997 UNC team. The defensive unit leaders were ACC Player of the Year Lori Henry, sweeper Carla Werden and goalkeeper Anne Sherow. They anchored a defense which allowed only 52 shots and two goals in 24 games en route to posting a 23-0-1 record. Only a tie with William & Mary marred the Tar Heels' perfect record. Midfielder Wendy Gebauer's 15 goals and 40 points led the Tar Heel offense in 1987, but it was a second-half goal by sophomore midfielder Shannon Higgins which proved to be the margin of victory in a 1-0 win over Massachusetts in the NCAA final. That game, along with the semifinal win over California, were played in near-Arctic weather conditions at Amherst, Mass., making it one of the most memorable NCAA College Cups ever. In the championship game, the wind was so strong that it made attacking offensively going against the gusts a futile proposition. Fortunately for Carolina, the Tar Heels went against the wind in the first half of the championship game and they were able to play the Minutewomen to a standstill. UNC had the benefit of the wind in the second half and scored the game's only goal to capture another NCAA championship. Higgins' game-winning goal would be the first of three she would score in NCAA championship games in three successive seasons.

The 1988 season proved to be a challenging one for the Tar Heels as rival NC State threatened to steal the championship trophy and relocate it down I-40 to Raleigh. The teams battled to a pair of dramatic 1-1 ties, one in the regular season game at Raleigh and another in the ACC Tournament championship game on the Wolfpack's home field at Method Road Soccer Stadium. NC State actually won the ACC title in a penalty kick shootout 4-3. During the season, Carolina set an NCAA record for a collegiate soccer unbeaten streak. First, the Tar Heels topped their own women's record of 57 games without a loss and then it surged past the Penn State men's soccer team's 65-game record unbeaten streak for all of college soccer. As the 1988 Soccer America National Player of the Year Shannon Higgins was an electrifying force on the squad, directing play-making duties and setting up goals from her attacking center midfield position. In the national championship game versus NC State, Higgins scored three goals in a 4-1 Carolina victory. That match was played in front of 4,500 fans at Fetzer Field, the largest collegiate women's soccer crowd in history at the time.

In 1989, Higgins again was voted the top player in the nation and she led the Tar Heels to another unbeaten finish and national title. Higgins was named the National Player of the Year by Soccer America, won the Hermann Trophy and the Honda Sports Award for Soccer, was the ACC Player of the Year and became the first ever recipient of the Mary Garber Award as the ACC's Female Athlete of the Year. She led the team in scoring with 48 points and scored the game-winning goal in the NCAA championship game for the third consecutive year against Colorado College in a 2-0 Tar Heel win. Freshmen Mia Hamm and Kristine Lilly scored 21 and 20 goals, respectively, although at that time it was a mere glimpse of that duo's future greatness in the world of women's soccer. Seniors Shannon Higgins, Julie Guarnotta, Ava Hyatt and Carla Werden closed out their four-year careers with a stunning 89-0-6 record and a quartet of NCAA championship rings.

The Greatest Game in Women's Soccer Lore

In 1990, Carolina again won the national championship, but did so with a notch in the loss column for the first time since November 24, 1985. On September 22, 1990, Connecticut ended the Tar Heels' national record unbeaten streak at 103 games by defeating the Tar Heels 3-2 in overtime at Storrs, Conn. Ironically, the Tar Heels would go on to avenge that defeat by routing the Huskies 6-0 in the NCAA championship game at Fetzer Field.

Following the loss at Connecticut, the Tar Heels fell out of the No. 1 spot in the ISAA poll for the first time since the second week of the 1986 season. Carolina regained the top spot by knocking off No. 1-ranked Virginia 3-0 late in the regular season and it then beat the Cavaliers again 2-0 in the ACC Tournament title game at Charlottesville, Va. The 1990 national quarterfinals matched the Tar Heels against old nemesis NC State in what would be one of the most dramatic games ever played in the sport's history. The Wolfpack held one-goal leads late in regulation time and again in the first overtime period, but both times the Tar Heels came back to tie the game on goals by Kristine Lilly. Finally, with just over two minutes remaining in the second overtime, Hamm sent a corner kick from the right side that Rita Tower headed in for the game-winning goal. After that dramatic game, which Soccer America dubbed the "Greatest Game in Women's Soccer History," the NCAA College Cup was played in Chapel Hill. Tower and Lilly each scored in the 2-1 semifinal win over Colorado College and six different Tar Heels scored in the championship game shutout of Connecticut.

In 1991, the Tar Heels had to defend their national title minus a host of spectacular players as well as its head coach. The top four leading scorers from the year before were not available to the team for much of the season. Kristine Lilly played the first 19 games of the season but departed prior to the start of the ACC and NCAA Tournaments to play in the 1991 World Cup in China. Mia Hamm, also on the World Cup Team, sat out the year as a red-shirt. Rita Tower and Jill Jakowich were both rehabilitating knee injuries. Led by freshman midfield sensation Tisha Venturini and senior forward Pam Kalinoski, who herself had battled back from a serious knee injury, UNC won 24

Amazing Carolina Soccer Fun Fact...

23 years between season opening losses Carolina lost its 1983 season opener at Connecticut 3-1. It would be 23 years before the Tar Heels would lose another season opener, falling 1-0 at Texas A&M in double overtime in 2006. In 33 years of play, the Tar Heels are 28-3-2 in season-opening games and 30-1-2 in home openers. The only loss in a home opener for UNC came in 2007 against South Carolina.

consecutive games to win the title, including the last 10 with assistant coach Bill Palladino at the controls after Dorrance had left to coach the U.S. in the World Cup in China. Lilly was the consensus National Player of the Year as well as the ACC Player of the Year. Venturini was the National Freshman of the Year and the ACC Tournament MVP. Venturini and Kalinoski split MVP honors in the NCAA College Cup. Kalinoski set a national record for assists in a season with 28 and Venturini led the nation in scoring with 21 goals and 58 points.

1992! Perhaps The Greatest Team Ever

The 1992 Tar Heels were what many observers called the best team in the history of collegiate women's soccer. It would be extremely difficult to argue to the contrary. Carolina rolled to a 25-0 record, a seventh consecutive NCAA title and an NCAA record for consecutive wins with 58 in a row by season's end.

The Tar Heels outscored their opposition 132-11 and trailed on just two occasions, once in a regular season victory at NC State and again in the NCAA final versus Duke. Both opponents' leads were short-lived. In the NCAA championship game against Duke, the Tar Heels rattled off nine successive goals after the Blue Devils drew first blood. Hamm led the nation with a school record 97 points on 32 goals and 33 assists, the latter mark also being a school record. She was the unanimous choice as National Player of the Year and she was the ACC Player of the Year as well as the Most Valuable Player of both the ACC and NCAA Tournaments. Lilly and Venturini added 65 and 46 points, respectively, and joined Hamm as first-team All-Americans. The Tar Heels won the NCAA championship during an almost surreal 9-1 victory over Duke at rain-soaked Fetzer Field as Hamm became only the second player to post a hat trick in an NCAA final game. But the most remarkable feat of the season may have been a mid-season West Coast road trip in which Carolina won four games in four days by a combined margin of 22-2. Included were wins over three nationally-ranked opponents. The Tar Heels vanquished UC-Santa Barbara 5-1, Portland 6-1, Saint Mary's 6-0 and Stanford 5-0 in that four-day stint.

Saving Goodbye to a Legend

In 1993, Hamm was again a unanimous selection as the National Player of the Year as she led the country in scoring with 68 points on 26 goals and 16 assists. She helped lead the Tar Heels to a 23-0 record as Carolina outscored the opposition, 92-15. Carolina hosted the NCAA College Cup at Fetzer Field for the fourth successive year and emerged with another national championship. Hamm finished her career with 103 goals, 72 assists and 278 points, each a school record. She also set NCAA Tournament scoring records for career and single tournament points, goals and assists. In 1994 she was named the recipient of the Mary Garber Award as the ACC's Top Female Athlete for the second consecutive year. Tisha Venturini missed several weeks at midseason with a broken bone in her foot but returned in time to reap Most Valuable Player honors at the ACC Tournament. The Tar Heels claimed their fifth straight league crown by virtue of a 4-1 win over Duke. Venturini was named first-team All-America for the third time. Before an NCAA record crowd of 5,721, UNC dismantled George Mason 6-0 in the NCAA final after the Tar Heels had whipped Massachusetts 4-1 in the semifinals.

The 1994 season was another triumphant campaign as the Tar Heels went 25-1-1 and won the NCAA championship for a ninth straight year. Venturini was the season's most impressive performer. She was unanimously selected the National Player of the Year and received first-team All-America honors for the fourth time in her career. Venturini, who led the Tar Heels with 21 goals and 13 assists for 55 points, was the ACC Player of the Year, MVP of the ACC Tournament and Most Outstanding Offensive Player of the NCAA Tournament. It was the third time in her career in which she was named the ACC Tournament MVP and the second time she earned MVP honors in the NCAA Tournament. Freshman Staci Wilson earned first-team All-America honors, was the National Freshman of the Year and the Most Outstanding Defensive Player in the NCAA Tournament.

The Tar Heels had two incredible streaks of excellence snapped in the regular season. An NCAA record winning streak reached 92 contests before Carolina and Notre Dame battled to a 0-0 tie in St. Louis on October 2, 1994. On October 19, 1994, Duke handed the Tar Heels a 3-2 defeat at Fetzer Field. That loss snapped a 101-game unbeaten streak for the Tar Heels dating back to September 22, 1990. The setback was also Carolina's first home loss at Fetzer Field since October 25, 1980, a streak of 137 games. The Tar Heels and Blue Devils met twice more during the 1994 campaign and Carolina came away with a 4-2 win in the ACC Tournament championship game and a 3-1 win in the NCAA Tournament quarterfinals. Venturini had three goals in the ACC final, the first hat trick in the history of the Tournament. Angela Kelly netted a pair of goals against Duke in the NCAA quarterfinals. The College Cup was held in Portland, Ore., where Venturini stole the show in the final two games of her college career. She capped her brilliant four years at Carolina by leading the Tar Heels to a 3-0 win over Connecticut in the semifinals and a 5-0 triumph over top-seeded Notre Dame in the final. Venturini scored twice in the championship game.

The 1995 season saw the Tar Heels' national championship streak end at nine seasons in a row. The previous year's senior class of 10 players was one of the most dominant in the history of the game. Carolina entered the 1995 campaign an inexperienced team with only three seniors and with a host of new starters on the field. Dorrance quickly molded the young players into a cohesive unit and the Tar Heels reeled off 25 successive wins while playing the nation's toughest schedule. Carolina won its eighth ACC title in nine years by sweeping through the tournament field and outscoring its opponents 16-0 in the three games. UNC dispatched Vanderbilt 4-0 in the NCAA second round after getting a bye in the first round as the tournament's top seed. Seventh-ranked Santa Clara fell victim to the Tar Heels 2-0 in the quarterfinals at Fetzer Field before UNC was beaten in the semifinals on an own goal in a 1-0 loss to fourth-ranked Notre Dame. What was then a women's soccer record crowd of 7,212 watched that Tar Heel loss, only the sixth loss at home in school history. Standout performances abounded during the 1995 campaign. Four Tar Heels earned first-team All-America honors—forward Debbie Keller, forward Cindy Parlow, defender Staci Wilson and goalkeeper Tracy Noonan. Keller and Wilson were named co-National Players of the Year by Soccer Digest.

Mining Olympic Gold

During the summer of 1996, Carolina's soccer fame grew as the Olympic Games held their first ever medal competition in women's soccer. The U.S. won the gold medal, beating China 2-1 in the final match with the help of a cast that had a pronounced Carolina Blue hue. Both assistant coaches for the team, Lauren Gregg and April Heinrichs, were Carolina graduates. Seven of the 16 players on the roster were either Carolina alumnae or Tar Heel players returning for the 1996 season. This cadre included Mia Hamm, Tisha Venturini, Carla Overbeck, Kristine Lilly, Cindy Parlow, Staci Wilson and Tiffany Roberts.

Led by the play of co-National Players of the Year Debbie Keller and Cindy Parlow,

UNC returned to the pinnacle of the collegiate women's soccer world during the 1996 campaign. After a sluggish start that saw the Tar Heels struggle through their first eight matches yet escape unscathed, Carolina fell to Notre Dame in the season's ninth game, 2-1 in overtime. The Fighting Irish thus became the first collegiate team in history to beat Carolina two times in a row. Shortly thereafter, Dorrance reconfigured his defensive scheme to a flat back three alignment and Carolina has stuck with that defensive alignment ever since, except for brief periods of the 2011 season when UNC played a 4-2-3-1 formation. Carolina rolled to victory over the final 17 games of the campaign to finish with a 25-1 record. UNC had spirited opposition in the ACC Tournament as Carolina claimed its eighth league crown in a row with wins over Florida State 7-1, Virginia 5-2 and Clemson 4-1. Junior forward Robin Confer was named the Most Valuable Player of the ACC Tournament. The Tar Heels were the No. 1 seed in the NCAA Tournament despite the fact that Notre Dame had beaten Carolina during the regular season and both teams had only one loss heading into postseason play. Carolina shut out its first three opponents in the NCAA Tournament and then received a stiff challenge from tournament host Santa Clara in the semifinals. Earlier in the season the Tar Heels had escaped against the Broncos on a goal in the last minute of play by Debbie Keller. In the rematch, goals late in the second half by Cindy Parlow and Laurie Schwoy gave the Tar Heels a 2-1 victory. Two days later, Carolina avenged its last two defeats to Notre Dame by beating the second-seeded Fighting Irish 1-0 in overtime in the NCAA title match. Senior forward Debbie Keller ended her career on a splendid note by scoring the game-winning goal in the 111th minute of the match.

A Dominant 1997 Season

Carolina was again the best team in the country in 1997, led by co-national players of the year — forwards Cindy Parlow and Robin Confer. The Tar Heels ended the season at 27-0-1 with only a regular-season, lightning-shortened draw against Notre Dame as a blemish on the perfect mark. UNC allowed a paltry eight goals in 28 games and tied the NCAA record for shutouts in a season with 22, a mark that had originally been established by the 1987 NCAA championship team. Carolina's toughest matches of the year came in the final three rounds of the NCAA Tournament as the Tar Heels outlasted Harvard 1-0 in the quarterfinals, came from behind to defeat Santa Clara 2-1 in the semifinals as Fair and Confer scored second-half goals and then blanked UConn 2-0 in the title game on goals by Parlow and Confer.

The 1998 team was an outstanding one although it failed to win the national championship. Led by seniors Cindy Parlow, Siri Mullinix and Tiffany Roberts, the Tar Heels won the first 24 games of the season heading into the NCAA College Cup at Greensboro, N.C. Carolina defeated Portland 1-0 in the semifinals on Meredith Florance's goal in the 150th minute of play, just 22 seconds before the match was going into penalty kicks to decide which team would advance to the finals. In the championship game, Florida scored in the first 10 minutes of play and Carolina was never able to produce an equalizer.

Reclaiming the Crown

The 1999 campaign started in unsettling fashion as Carolina lost two games in September and stood 6-2 just eight games into the season. It was the first time Carolina had lost two games in the same season since 1985.

But a strong senior class, led by National Player of the Year Lorrie Fair and which also included Rebekah McDowell, Lindsay Stoecker and Beth Sheppard, rallied the troops. Over the final 13 games of the season, Carolina allowed only one goal. The signature Tar Heel defense, keyed by Fair and Stoecker, and featuring first-team All-America Danielle Borgman and freshman goalkeeper Jenni Branam refused to let Carolina lose down the season's stretch run. Carolina won its 11th straight ACC championship and it capped the season with brilliant play in the NCAA College Cup, beating Penn State 2-0 in the semifinals to avenge a regular-season loss to the Nittany Lions and Notre Dame 2-0 in the championship game. Junior Meredith Florance and senior midfielder Beth Sheppard scored the goals in the championship game for Carolina.

In 2000, the Tar Heels won their 12th successive ACC championship and its 17th national championship. UNC's three losses marked only the second time in history Carolina had lost more than two times in a single year, the other previous instance being 1980. All three losses came on the road against ACC teams and in each of the one-goal losses the Tar Heels surrendered a goal on a penalty kick. Prior to 2000, the Tar Heels had lost only one ACC game in their history. UNC rebounded to sweep three opponents easily in the ACC Tournament, avenging its regular-season loss to Florida State in the semifinals 3-0 and winning against Duke 4-0 in the finals. Seeded fifth entering the NCAA Tournament, its lowest seed ever, UNC beat Wake Forest 5-0 in the second round, avenging another of its regular season losses. In three of the last four games of the NCAA Tournament, the Tar Heels had to rally from 1-0 deficits with less than 25 minutes to play. Carolina beat Virginia 2-1 in the NCAA third round on late goals by Laurie Schwoy and Meredith Florance and then rolled past Connecticut 3-0 in the quarterfinals behind a pair of goals by National Player of the Year Meredith Florance. The Tar Heels rallied to beat top-seeded Notre Dame 2-1 in the NCAA semifinals on goals by Kim Patrick and Jordan Walker and then overcame UCLA 2-1 in the national championship game. Freshmen scored the winning goals in the final two games of the season, both in the final 10 minutes of play. Jordan Walker scored to beat Notre Dame in the semifinals and Catherine Reddick had the game-winner in the title game after Florance had tied the match with less than 15 minutes to play.

2003 Team Excels With Aplomb

Despite brilliant regular seasons and a pair of ACC championships, UNC went without NCAA titles in both 2001 and 2002, losing both times to Santa Clara. The Broncos beat the Heels in the championship game in 2001 and in the semifinals in 2002 by 1-0 and 2-1 scores, respectively.

The Tar Heels returned to the throne of college soccer in 2003 with one of the best teams, if not the best team, in the history of the game. For the first time since 1993, when the Tar Heels also accomplished the feat, a collegiate women's soccer team completed a season with an undefeated and untied record as the Tar Heels matched the NCAA record for wins in a season by finishing 27-0.

In three of the first six matches of the campaign, UNC had to go to overtime to win road games against Washington, Texas and Texas A&M. Lori Chalupny scored the game winner at UW and Maggie Tomecka and Libby Guess had game-winners in the Lone Star State matchups.

UNC was led by an impressive offensive array of talent which was spearheaded by co-National Player of the Year Lindsay Tarpley, who led the nation in total points with 73 and in assists with 27. Tarpley became the first player since Mia Hamm in 1993 to be named ACC Player of the Year and ACC Tournament MVP while also leading the ACC in scoring. Tarpley's 19 points in the NCAA Tournament were a UNC record, highlighted by 11 assists, a record in NCAA play in a single tournament.

Senior forward Alyssa Ramsey finished with 10 goals and 25 assists, the second-highest total of assists in the nation, and consensus National Freshman of the Year Heather O'Reilly shook off the effects of a broken leg suffered in June by scoring 13 goals in the final 12 games of the season, including eight tallies in UNC's six NCAA Tournament contests, the most goals ever scored by a Tar Heel in a single NCAA Tournament. O'Reilly won NCAA Tournament offensive MVP honors and Catherine Reddick won the defensive award. Three Tar Heels earned All-America honors on defense including Honda Sports Award for Soccer and Hermann Trophy winner Catherine Reddick, a consensus first-team All-America choice. Senior Carmen Watley also copped All-America honors as did sophomore goalkeeper Aly Winget who finished second in the nation in goals against average and posted 16 solo shutouts, an ACC season record.

UNC outscored its opponents 113-11 on the season and was at its best in NCAA play when it scored 32 goals while not allowing a single tally in six games, a tournament record for defensive prowess. Carolina's opposition in the Tournament was not easy as the Tar Heels had to beat four conference champions en route to the title while beating No. 3 Santa Clara in the quarterfinals and No. 2 UCLA in the semifinals by identical 3-0 scores.

The 2004 and 2005 seasons produced another two ACC regular season titles for Carolina as well as an ACC Tournament title in the latter year. UNC's 10-member senior class in 2005, led by 2003 National Player of the Year Lindsay Tarpley and three-time consensus first-team All-America midfielder Lori Chalupny, finished its career with only four losses. The class also included All-

America midfielder Kacey White and All-America defender Kendall Fletcher and goalkeeper Aly Winget, who set the ACC record with 35 career solo shutouts.

The 2006 Freshmen Lead Carolina To Another Golden Era

Carolina returned to the top rung of college soccer in 2006 with a team that started seven freshmen in the second half of the NCAA championship game against Notre Dame. UNC lost its season opener at Texas A&M 1-0 in double overtime, its first loss in a lid-lifter since 1983. A week later, standing at 2-1, the Heels trailed UConn 2-0 at halftime before rallying for a 3-2 win with three second-half goals. That second 45 minutes of soccer turned the Tar Heels' season around and sent them on the way to a 10-0 ACC mark and a thrilling overtime win over Florida State 2-1 in the ACC championship game on a goal by senior Libby Guess. Altogether, the freshman-laden squad ran off wins in its final 27 matches of the campaign. In the NCAA Tournament, the Tar Heels rallied to beat Texas A&M in the quarterfinals on three second-half goals, scored two goals in the final seven minutes to beat UCLA in the semifinals and beat co-No. 1 Notre Dame 2-1 in the championship contest. Both Yael Averbuch and Heather O'Reilly earned national player of the year awards and O'Reilly was the offensive MVP of the College Cup for the second time.

After a 19-4-1 season in 2007, Carolina returned to the top of the college soccer ranks in 2008 as it won its 20th national championship and its 20th ACC title. Consensus National Player of the Year Casey Nogueira led the nation with 25 goals and her two goals in the second half of the NCAA title game rallied the Tar Heels past No. 1-ranked Notre Dame 2-1. Carolina, which finished the year 25-1-2, had to beat undefeated teams in both the NCAA semifinals and finals as UCLA and Notre Dame both headed into the College Cup without having lost in 2008. Carolina also won the ACC Tournament without allowing a goal in three games. UNC needed a goal in double overtime by Ali Hawkins to rally past Texas A&M 2-1 in the NCAA quarterfinals at Fetzer Field and then a week later beat UCLA 1-0 in the semifinals on a penalty kick goal by Yael Averbuch. Notre Dame scored in the opening minute of the national championship match but Nogueira tied the score on a free kick early in the second half and then won the game with a spectacular, world class goal with just over two minutes left on the clock.

UNC's NCAA title run in 2009 was fueled first and foremost by defense. UNC posted 19 shutouts in 27 games and allowed only 12 goals all season. A preseason No. 1 team with 11 players returning with starting experience, Carolina beat eventual NCAA semifinalist UCLA 7-2 in the season opener. In the fourth game of the season, the Tar Heels defeated Notre Dame 6-0 in the debut of the Fighting Irish's new soccer stadium. By midseason, the Tar Heels were not clicking on all cylinders, however. Nogueira was struggling with her scoring touch while Tobin Heath and Ashlyn Harris missed time with the National Team. A season-ending injury to Nikki Washington was a huge setback and Ali Hawkins and Courtney Jones also missed time with injuries. Carolina lost three times in the regular season in ACC road games to Virginia Tech, Florida State and Miami but rebounded to win the ACC Tournament with a 3-0 win over FSU in the final as Nogueira scored twice and was named MVP. In the end, the defense of National Player of the Year Whitney Engen, Kristi Eveland and Rachel Givan and goalkeeper Ashlyn Harris carried the Tar Heels to shutouts in 10 of the last 11 games of the season. In the College Cup, UNC held Notre Dame and undefeated and untied Stanford to no goals in 180 minutes of play. Nogueira had the game-winner against the Fighting Irish in the semifinals and then Jessica McDonald scored less than three minutes into the championship game in a pair of 1-0 triumphs.

As Carolina prepares for the 2012 season the challenge for Dorrance will be to try to improve upon numbers which are already staggering in nature, including a 728-44-26 overall record, a 308-17-8 all-time record at Fetzer Field, a total of 512 defensive shutouts in the 798 games while being shut out offensively in only 30 of 798 games.

Note On Overtime Games

From 1979-1997, overtime games were formatted to include 2 mandated 15-minute overtime periods played out in their entirety. So all games indicated as overtime games during those 19 years are indicated with a 2OT designation and were all decided in 2 mandatory 15-minute periods. Beginning in 1998, the overtime process was changed to a golden goal format with the exception of ACC and NCAA Tournament games. A goal scored in overtime ended the contest at that point in time. In 1999, the golden goal format went into effect for ACC Tournament and NCAA Tournament games as well. In 1998-2001, overtime periods were 15 minutes in length. Beginning in 2002, the process remained golden goal but the overtime periods were reduced to 10 minutes in length. From 1999 to the present, games that went to overtime are listed as either OT or 2OT depending on when the golden goal was scored. The 1998 NCAA semifinal match versus Portland was a four overtime sudden death match. The game would have gone to penalty kicks after the fourth overtime period.

*The NCAA recognizes only solo shutouts for individual statistical purposes. A shared shutout goes down as a team shutout but is not credited to any individual. Despite extensive records research by UNC Athletic Communications, determining the goalkeepers who played in shutout games in 1979, 1980, 1981, 1982, 1984, 1985, 1987 and 1988 did not yield complete and accurate results.

#Led ACC. @Led Nation.

Since the founding of the U.S. Women's National Team in 1985, Carolina players have played an integral role in the team's success. A total of 50 UNC players have earned caps playing on the USWNT since its creation in 1985 through the 2012 Olympics.

Two Tar Heels — Heather O'Reilly and Tobin Heath — played for the U.S. in the 2012 Olympic Games in London and were rewarded with a gold medal after dramatic wins over Canada in the semifinals and Japan in the final. It was the third gold medal for O'Reilly and the second for Heath.

O'Reilly and Heath were also members of the 2011 U.S. World Cup Team which claimed the silver medal in the event in Germany. Lindsey Tarpley was also named to the roster for that team in May 2011 but shortly thereafter tore an ACL and had to miss the competition. 1987 UNC alumna Marcia McDermott was an assistant coach for the 2011 U.S. World Cup Team.

Lori Chalupny, O'Reilly, Heath and Tarpley were all on the U.S. Team which played in the 2008 Olympics in China as the team won its second straight Olympic gold medal and its third overall.

The U.S. National Team was coached by 1987 UNC alumna April Heinrichs from 2000-05. Heinrichs retired as the team's coach after leading the Americans to the 2004 Olympic gold medal in Athens, Greece.

One of the top highlights of all the National Team's events was the play of the U.S. World Cup Team which recaptured the world championship with a 5-4 shootout victory over China in the Rose Bowl in Pasadena, Calif., on July 10, 1999. Rarely has any athletic team captured the imagination of the American public as that team did. Forty percent of the U.S. roster were graduates of Carolina's program led by starting forwards Mia Hamm and Cindy Parlow, starting midfielder Kristine Lilly and starting defender Carla Overbeck, the team's captain. Reserve roles were played by midfielders Tisha Venturini and Tiffany Roberts, defender Lorrie Fair and goalkeeper Tracy Noonan.

Parlow tallied the game-winner as the U.S. ousted Brazil 2-0 in the semifinals. After battling China to a 0-0 tie through 120 minutes of play in the final, the U.S. triumphed 5-4 on penalty kicks with Tar Heels Overbeck, Lilly and Hamm providing three of the five successful chances from the mark in the penalty shootout.

In the 2004 Olympics in Athens, Greece, the U.S. reclaimed the gold medal it had relinquished to Norway in 2000. That squad was coached by Heinrichs and six Tar Heels played on the squad, including Hamm, who was competing in her final major international event before retiring from the sport. During the Olympic Tournament, Lilly and Parlow continued as veteran mainstays of the team and they were joined by three younger generation Tar Heels — Cat Whitehill, Heather O'Reilly and Lindsay Tarpley. O'Reilly scored the game-winning golden goal in overtime as the U.S. beat Germany 2-1 in the semifinals and then Tarpley scored the opening goal of the match as the Americans beat Brazil 2-1 in overtime for the gold medal. Tar Heel players accounted for seven of the 12 goals scored by the U.S. in the 2004 Olympics.

Tar Heels Heather O'Reilly, Lindsey Tarpley, Tobin Heath and Lori Chalupny led the United States to its third Olympic gold medal in 2008 in Beijing.

Tar Heel head coach Anson Dorrance was one of the chief architects of the national team's amazing success. He began coaching the team in 1986 and he served in that role for eight years before retiring in 1994 to concentrate on his work as the Tar Heels' head coach. During Dorrance's coaching tenure, he led the U.S. National Team to a record of 65-22-2.

In 1991, Dorrance took the U.S. Team to China to compete in the first-ever Women's World Cup. Nine of the 18 players on the team were Carolina graduates or active UNC players at that time, including team captain April Heinrichs. The Americans won that initial World Cup, beating Norway 2-1 in the championship match.

Although the U.S. would be dethroned by eventual champion Norway four years later in the 1995 Women's World Cup semifinals and had to settle for the bronze medal, the Americans came back to claim the 1996 Olympic gold medal in women's soccer. The U.S. defeated Norway in sudden death overtime in the semifinals and then downed China in the gold medal match 2-1 before a capacity crowd at the University of Georgia's Sanford Stadium. That U.S. Olympic team featured seven Carolina players.

The U.S. National Team took home the silver medal at the 2000 Olympic Games in Sydney, Australia with six more Tar Heels on that team. The National Team won the bronze medal at the 2003 World Cup with six Carolina players on that squad and it captured bronze at the 2007 World Cup and silver at the 2011 World Cup.

APRIL HEINRICHS • 1984 & 1986 NATIONAL PLAYER OF THE YEAR

April Heinrichs was the first of the truly great players in Carolina's storied history. She was also the first true superstar in women's soccer worldwide.

Heinrichs was named a first-team All-America forward in 1984, 1985 and 1986 by the Intercollegiate Soccer Association. She was also a third-team All-America in 1983. The ISA named her National Player of the Year in both 1984 and 1986.

Heinrichs particularly excelled in postseason play. She was named to the All-Tournament Team at the 1983, 1984, 1985 and 1986 NCAA Tournaments. In 1984, she was the overall Most Valuable Player of the NCAA Tournament. In 1985 and 1986, she was the Most Valuable Offensive Player of the tournament. Heinrichs' performances in those tournaments helped the Tar Heels win NCAA championships in 1983, 1984 and 1986. Her No. 2 uniform was the first to be retired by the women's soccer program.

Heinrichs' greatness is evidenced by her place in the Carolina record books. She shares the school record for assists in a game with five against Warren Wilson on October 29, 1983. She is second in Carolina history in scoring with 225 points. Her 87 goals are third in school history, and she is also tied for eighth in assists with 51.

Heinrichs led the Tar Heels in scoring four times – in 1983 with 47 points, in 1984 with 59, in 1985 with 50 and in 1986 with 69.

Soccer America recognized her as the Player of the Decade for the 1980s.

She was a member of the U.S. Women's National Team from 1986-91 earning 47 caps and scoring 37 goals. Heinrichs served as the captain of the 1991 U.S. team which won the championship at the first ever Women's World Cup in China.

After Heinrichs' playing days, she made a transition to the coaching arena. In 1996, she served as assistant coach for the U.S. Olympic Team, which won the gold medal. She was the head coach of the U.S. Women's National Team from 2000-05, leading the team to an 87-17-20 record in five years. Heinrichs coached the team to an Olympic gold medal in 2004 in her last major competition as the squad's head coach.

Her first college coaching position was as head coach at Princeton in 1990, where she compiled an 8-6-1 mark.

She then became head coach at Maryland for five years from 1991-95, compiling a mark of 56-40-7. In 1995, she was named ACC Coach of the Year after leading the Terrapins to their first-ever NCAA Tournament appearance.

She then served four years as the head coach at Virginia. She went 52-27-7 there with four NCAA Tournament appearances. Heinrichs was named head coach of the U.S. National Team in 2000 and she retired at the conclusion of the 2004 season. She then coached for one year at the University of California at Irvine in 2006 before accepting a post with the U.S. Olympic Committee in December 2006 as Performance Services Team Leader.

A native of Denver, Colo., she graduated from Carolina in 1986.

SHANNON HIGGINS • 1988 & 1989 NATIONAL PLAYER OF THE YEAR

Shannon Higgins won two national player of the year honors during her four years at the University of North Carolina. Soccer America honored her with its award in 1988 and the Intercollegiate Soccer Association of America gave her its award in 1989. She also won the Honda Sports Award for Soccer in 1989.

Higgins played for the U.S. Women's National Team from 1987-91 and earned a total of 51 caps. She was a member of the United States Team which won the 1991 Women's World Cup title in China.

Her career continued as a coach of the sport on the collegiate level. She was the head coach for seven years at George Washington University and six more at the University of Maryland before retiring from coaching following the 2004 season. Her seven Maryland teams combined to go 62-51-10. Her final Terrapins' squad advanced to the Final 16 of the NCAA Tournament.

Before her time with the Terps, Higgins served as the head women's soccer coach at George Washington University in Washington, D.C., where she posted a 69-59-11 record in seven years.

Higgins is married to Sasho Cirovski, the head men's soccer coach at the University of Maryland.

As a collegian, Higgins remarkably scored the game-winning goal in the 1987, 1988 and 1989 NCAA championship games as the Tar Heels beat UMass 1-0, NC State 4-1 and Colorado College 2-0, respectively.

She was named a first-team All-America midfielder by the National Soccer Coaches Association of America in both 1988 and 1989.

Higgins was also named to the first-team All-Atlantic Coast Conference squad in 1987, 1988 and 1989, winning the ACC Player of the Year award in 1989.

The University of North Carolina honored her with the Patterson Medal in 1990 as the outstanding senior student-athlete at the school.

Also in 1990, Higgins won the first-ever Mary Garber Award given by the Atlantic Coast Sports Media Association to the female athlete of the year in the conference.

Higgins had a memorable career in postseason play for the Tar Heels.

She was named to the All-Tournament Team at the NCAA Tournament in 1987, 1988 and 1989. Higgins was the Offensive Most Valuable Player of the 1988 NCAA Tournament after she scored three goals in Carolina's 4-1 victory over NC State in the championship game.

In each of her four years at Carolina (1986-89), the women's soccer team captured the NCAA championship. She also played on Tar Heel teams which captured ACC Tournament championships in 1987 and 1989.

Her jersey number (No. 3) is one of 17 retired numbers in Carolina women's soccer history.

Higgins is ranked 16th in career scoring at Carolina with 129 points and she is 20th in goals scored at Carolina with 39. She is tied for eighth in Carolina history with 51 assists.

In 1988, she led the ACC in scoring with 43 points. For three consecutive seasons, she led the conference in assists. She had 11 assists in 1987, 17 assists in 1988, and 18 assists in 1989.

KRISTINE LILLY • 1990 & 1991 NATIONAL PLAYER OF THE YEAR

Kristine Lilly's tenure on the U.S. National Team earned her the distinction of being one of the most celebrated players in soccer history. Before her retirement from soccer on January 5, 2011, Lilly had 352 caps with the U.S. National Team, 77 more than Mia Hamm's 275 career caps which ranked second.

Lilly played in her fifth World Cup in 2007. When she retired she was the second-leading scorer in National Team history with 130 goals and 365 points, ranking only behind Hamm in those two statistics. She finished her career No. 1 in career starts and overall caps and No. 2 in goals, assists and points.

Lilly was twice named National Player of the Year at Carolina, winning the award in 1990 and 1991. Soccer America honored her during both campaigns, while the Missouri Athletic Club, the Honda Soccer Award, the Hermann Trophy and the Intercollegiate Soccer Association of America all gave her their awards in 1991.

In 1993, she earned the Patterson Medal as the outstanding senior athlete at the University. She was the ACC Player of the Year in 1991 while winning the ACC Tournament's Most Valuable Player award in 1990. Soccer America named her the National Freshman of the Year in 1989.

In postseason play, Lilly was named the Most Outstanding Offensive Player in the 1989 and 1990 NCAA Tournaments. She scored 10 goals and had seven assists for 27 points in nine NCAA Tournament matches in her career. The Tar Heels won national championships in all four of her years at Carolina (1989-92) and UNC compiled a record of 93-1-2 during Lilly's tenure.

She is fifth in school history in scoring with 197 points, fourth in goals with 78 and tied for 17th in assists with 41. In 1990, Lilly ranked second in the nation in scoring with 52 points.

When it comes to experience internationally, Lilly had no equal. She participated in more than 80 percent of the matches the U.S. women's team had ever played at the time she retired. That gave her more international match appearances than any other player – man or woman – in the history of U.S. Soccer. The U.S. Soccer Federation named Lilly its Player of the Year in 1993.

Lilly was a member of the U.S. National Team, which won the Gold Medal at the 1996 Olympics and the 2004 Olympics.

She also helped the U.S. win the 1999 World Cup just as she had been a key cog to the win in 1991. Lilly scored two goals and had one assist during the 1999 competition. She converted a key penalty kick in the final against China as well as clearing what would have been a sure Chinese goal off the goal line in overtime before the match went to penalty kicks.

Her jersey number 15 was retired by the University of North Carolina. She received her degree from Carolina in Radio, Television & Motion Pictures in 1993.

Lilly played for the Boston Breakers in the WUSA for three seasons. She returned to professional soccer in 2009 as a member of the new Boston Breakers franchise in Women's Professional Soccer. In 2011, she had her number retired by the Breakers' franchise and the mayor of Boston, Thomas Menino, honored her with Kristine Lilly Day in the city.

MIA HAMM • 1992 & 1993 NATIONAL PLAYER OF THE YEAR

Mia Hamm attained the status of being recognized as one of the world's most talented and well-known female athletes in any sport and she accomplished that status very early in her career.

FIFA named her the Women's World Player of the Year in 2001 and 2002, the first two years in which the world's governing body had bestowed the award.

Her fame expanded well off the pitch. People Magazine named her one of the 50 Most Beautiful People in the World in 1997. Corporations contracted with her for major endorsements, including Gatorade, Pepsi and Pert Shampoo. Nike named the largest building at its world headquarters in Beaverton, Ore., after her in 1999.

She was one of the stars of the U.S. team which won the title at the 1999 World Cup, an event which propelled the popularity of women's soccer in the U.S. to unheard of heights. Hamm converted a key penalty kick in the victory over China in the championship game.

Hamm was the 1994 recipient of the Honda Broderick Cup given to the Outstanding Female Athlete in all of college sports. She is the only UNC athlete to ever win the award. She received the 1994 Patterson Medal as the outstanding senior athlete at Carolina.

The ACC honored Hamm with the 1993 and 1994 Mary Garber Awards as the ACC's Female Athlete of the Year. She also won the ACC Player of the Year award three times and was a three-time unanimous first-team All-America selection. In 2002, she was named the outstanding female athlete in the first half century of the ACC.

Hamm helped lead UNC to NCAA championships in 1989, 1990, 1992 and 1993. She was the unanimous choice as college soccer's National Player of the Year in 1992 and 1993. Hamm won the NCAA Tournament MVP awards for offense in 1992 and 1993. In 1989 and 1992, she was the MVP of the ACC Tournament.

Hamm led the nation in scoring in 1990, 1992 and 1993, setting the NCAA single-season record for scoring with 97 points in 1992. Hamm also holds the UNC record for assists with 33 in 1992. She scored 32 goals in 1992, the second-highest total in UNC history.

Before retiring from soccer at the conclusion of the 2004 season, Hamm had been a member of the U.S. National Team since 1987. She was 15 years old when she first played for the team, making her the youngest woman ever to play for the National Team.

She ended 2004 as the world's all-time leading scorer with 158 goals and 144 assists for 460 points. Her 158 international goals are the most of all-time in FIFA history, male or female. She went out on a high by winning her second Olympic gold medal in 2004.

In 1999 she established the Mia Hamm Foundation to raise funds and awareness for bone marrow transplant patients and families and to provide more opportunities for young girls in athletics.

She received her degree in political science from Carolina in 1994. In 2003, she was married to Nomar Garciaparra, a former Major League Baseball All-Star and current ESPN commentator. They have twin daughters, Ava Caroline and Grace Isabella, born in 2007, and a son, Garrett, born in 2012.

TISHA VENTURINI • 1994 NATIONAL PLAYER OF THE YEAR

Tisha Venturini won championships at every level in her playing career. She is one of only three women in history to win an NCAA title, an Olympic gold medal, a Women's World Cup championship and the WUSA's Founders Cup championship. The others were also Tar Heels — Mia Hamm and Carla Overbeck.

Her career at Carolina got off to a fast start as she won Soccer America's National Freshman of the Year accolade in 1991 to complement her ACC Freshman of the Year award. That season she led the NCAA in scoring with 21 goals and 16 assists for 58 points.

Venturini would go on to be the unanimous selection as the 1994 National Player of the Year after leading Carolina to a fourth straight national championship. She was the recipient of the Hermann Trophy and was also named Player of the Year by the Missouri Athletic Club, the Honda Sports Award for Soccer, the Intercollegiate Soccer Association of America, Soccer America, Soccer News and College Sports.

She was the recipient of the 1995 Patterson Medal given annually to the outstanding senior athlete at the University of North Carolina.

In 1995, she also won the Mary Garber Award as the Outstanding Female Athlete in the ACC. She was the ACC Player of the Year in 1994 and was also named first-team All-ACC and first-team All-South four times.

Venturini was at her best in the postseason. She was named the ACC Tournament's MVP in 1991, 1993 and 1994, and, in each of her four seasons, she made the NCAA All-Tournament Team. Remarkably versatile, she won the Most Outstanding Defensive Player of the 1991 NCAA Tournament accolade and the Most Outstanding Offensive Player of the 1994 NCAA Tournament award. In 14 NCAA Tournament games, she had seven goals and added nine assists for 23 points.

Venturini established a reputation as a clutch player, scoring three goals against Duke in the 1994 ACC Tournament championship game and two goals against Notre Dame in the 1994 NCAA title game as she finished her post-season career in impressive fashion.

She is sixth all-time in UNC history with 69 goals and tied for eighth all-time in assists with 51. She is tied for seventh in points with 189.

Venturini also went on to great success in international play for the U.S. National Team.

She started at center midfield for the U.S. National Team in the 1995 Women's World Cup, and tied for the U.S. team lead in scoring with three goals.

In the 1996 Olympics, she helped the U.S. capture the gold medal. She was also a member of the 1999 U.S. World Cup championship team for the USA. Venturini scored two goals versus North Korea in the last round of pool play in that event.

Overall, she had 132 caps for the National Team, scoring 44 goals.

She played for the San Jose Cyber Rays in the WUSA for three years, capturing a title in 2001.

DEBBIE KELLER • 1995 & 1996 NATIONAL PLAYER OF THE YEAR

University of North Carolina head coach Anson Dorrance called Debbie Keller possibly the finest leader he has seen in his quarter plus century of coaching women's soccer at Carolina.

In 1995, she was named Co-National Player of the Year by Soccer Digest, and, in 1996, Keller was named National Player of the Year by both Soccer America and Soccer Buzz.

Keller received the Patterson Medal, given to the most outstanding senior athlete at the University of North Carolina, in 1997.

UNC won the NCAA championship with Keller as a leading member of the team in 1993, 1994 and 1996. She co-captained the 1996 team and played all 210 minutes of the NCAA semifinals and championship game that year against Santa Clara and Notre Dame. In the championship game, she scored the game-winning goal at the 110:56 mark. After the tournament, she was named its Most Valuable Offensive Player of the NCAA College Cup.

In 1996, she was named a first-team All-America selection by Soccer America, Soccer News and Soccer Buzz. In 1995, she was named a first-team All-America honoree by the National Soccer Coaches Association of America and Soccer News. In 1994 and 1996, she was named a second-team All-America selection by the NSCAA.

Keller was a finalist for the prestigious Honda Sports Award for soccer in 1996.

With 102 games played, she was the NCAA career record holder in that category until it was broken a year later by fellow Tar Heel forward Robin Confer who played in 107 matches. Keller ranks sixth in UNC history in career points with 191, eighth in career goals with 67 and fifth in career assists with 57. Over the course of her career, she scored 16 game-winning goals.

The Atlantic Coast Conference tabbed her as a first-team all-league selection in 1994 and 1995. She was also the Most Valuable Player of the 1995 ACC Tournament.

The Tar Heels won four ACC Tournament championships while Keller played at UNC to go with the three NCAA crowns she also won.

In 1996, she was a finalist for both the Hermann Trophy and the Missouri Athletic Club Sports Foundation's Player of the Year Award. Sports Illustrated featured her in its Faces in the Crowd section of a December issue in 1996 after she scored the game-winning goal in the 1996 NCAA championship game against Notre Dame. Her overtime goal lifted the Tar Heels past the Fighting Irish 1-0.

She scored all three goals for the East Team in the 1997 Umbro Select Senior All-Star Game in Fort Lauderdale, Fla. The East team defeated the West Team 3-0.

Soccer Buzz gave her its inaugural National Sportsmanship Award in 1996.

From 1995-98, Keller earned 46 caps with the U.S. National Team. She started 14 games in that time and had 18 goals and six assists for 42 points.

ROBIN CONFER • 1997 NATIONAL PLAYER OF THE YEAR

One of the most gifted women's soccer players in NCAA history, Robin Confer had an uncanny ability to find the back of the goal throughout her UNC career. She was a pure finisher and that was reflected in her career scoring statistics and the number of game-winning goals she tallied.

She is ranked fourth in Carolina history in total points with 209 and is the fifth highest goal-scorer in school history with 77 tallies. Her 55 assists are good enough for the sixth most in Tar Heel women's soccer lore.

In 1997, she had 62 points – a total tying her for the 10th most points in a season in Carolina history. That same season, she had 22 assists, eighth most in a single campaign. The 18 assists she recorded in 1995 are tied for the 12th most in a single year in Carolina women's soccer rankings.

As a senior, she was named the National Player of the Year by Soccer Buzz magazine and Soccer News magazine. Confer was also a finalist for the 1997 Hermann Trophy and a semifinalist for the 1997 Missouri Athletic Club Player of the Year award.

Confer established an NCAA record for games played in a career with 107 appearances from 1994-97, breaking Debbie Keller's existing NCAA record of 102 set the year before. Confer never missed a game in her career at Carolina. She shares the Carolina record for most games played and most games started in a season with 28 in 1997.

An inspired performance in the 1997 NCAA Tournament led to her being named the Most Valuable Offensive Player of that competition. She scored a goal on a free kick late in the second half to lift UNC to a 2-1 NCAA semifinal win over Santa Clara. Two days later, she scored the insurance goal in the waning minutes in the Tar Heels' 2-0 victory over Connecticut in the championship game.

In 1997, Soccer America, Soccer News, Soccer Buzz and Soccer Times all named her a first-team All-America selection. She was named a second-team All-America by the National Soccer Coaches Association of America in 1997. In 1996, she was named second-team All-America by Soccer Buzz and Soccer News. In 1995, she was a Soccer News second-team All-America. As a freshman in 1994, she was named a third-team All-America by Soccer News.

Confer was named first-team All-Atlantic Coast Conference in 1995 and 1997 and second-team All-ACC in 1994 and 1996. She was the ACC Tournament's MVP in 1996. The Tar Heels won four ACC Tournament championships and three NCAA championships (1994, 1996 and 1997) during her stint in Chapel Hill. She has more career points in ACC Tournament games than any other player in history with 31 and more goals with 13.

Her 27 game-winning goals are the most in UNC history. Confer netted 11 game-winners in 1995, the most in a single season.

Soccer Buzz named her the 1997 Southeast Region Offensive Player of the Year and Soccer News named her the 1997 Southeast Region Player of the Year.

STACI WILSON • 1995 NATIONAL PLAYER OF THE YEAR

Small in stature, but big in heart, defender Staci Wilson was impossible to intimidate on the pitch. She was tenacious in her desire to win. She is remembered as one of the toughest defenders in the history of both the University of North Carolina women's soccer program and NCAA women's soccer overall. Wilson always made the difficult tackle and pursued every loose ball with ferocious intensity.

Wilson was also respected as a top offensive threat from her backfield position and she was always successful at jump starting the Tar Heel attack from the back.

Standing barely five feet tall, she helped the Tar Heels win four Atlantic Coast Conference Tournament championships from 1994 through 1997 and three NCAA championships in 1994, 1996 and 1997.

In 1995, she was the Co-National Player of the Year as named by Soccer Digest and is one of 17 Tar Heel players to have her number retired by the University.

In her first season at UNC, she was named the National Freshman Player of the Year by Soccer America magazine in 1994 on a team which was senior-laden and won the national title for the ninth straight year.

As a senior in 1997, she was named a first-team All-America by Soccer America, Soccer Buzz and Soccer Times and a second-team All-America by Soccer News and the National Soccer Coaches Association of America/Umbro. That 1997 Tar Heel team was as good as any defensively in UNC lore, allowing only eight goals in 28 games as UNC finished 27-0-1.

In her junior season in 1996, she was a coaches' association first team All-America and was named a second-team All-America by Soccer Buzz and a third-team All-America by Soccer News. That team lost only one game en route to a national title. Her 1995 campaign earned her a first-team All-America selection by the National Soccer Coaches Association, Soccer America and Soccer News. As a freshman in 1994, she was a first-team Soccer News All-America.

Wilson was a first-team All-Atlantic Coast Conference defender from 1994-1996 and made the second-team All-ACC squad in 1997 despite being a consensus first-team All-America that season. She was named to the All-ACC Tournament Team in 1994, 1995 and 1997 as Carolina won championships each of those seasons.

She also earned honors as a member of the NCAA's All-Tournament Team at the 1994, 1995 and 1997 tournaments.

The U.S. Olympic Team tapped her as a reserve for the 1996 gold medal team in Atlanta, Ga. She played for the U.S. National Team in 1995 and 1996 and earned 14 caps, while starting six games.

In the Women's United Soccer Association, she was a starting defender for the Carolina Courage, winning a Founder's Cup title in 2002.

Playing high school and club soccer in Northern Virginia, she was one of the top-ranked players in the United States' high school ranks when she was recruited by the Tar Heels for her freshman campaign in 1993-94.

CINDY PARLOW • 1996, 1997, & 1998 NATIONAL PLAYER OF THE YEAR

Dynamic forward Cindy Parlow, who currently serves as the volunteer assistant coach for UNC women's soccer, was the youngest player to ever win both a women's World Cup title and an Olympic gold medal. She is the sixth-leading goal scorer in the history of the U.S. Women's National Team despite having played on the team for only nine years (1996-2004). She totaled 185 points in her career and also ranks sixth all-time in goals with 75.

As a standout player at the University of North Carolina, Parlow was named National Player of the Year three different seasons, earning top honors in 1996, 1997 and 1998.

Parlow had an immediate impact for the Tar Heels as a freshman in 1995. Soccer News and Soccer America both named her the National Freshman Player of the Year and, along with the NSCAA, they also picked her as a first-team All-America. Parlow garnered first-team All-ACC and ACC Freshman of the Year honors. She scored 19 goals and had 13 assists for 51 points that season.

As a sophomore, Soccer News magazine named her National Player of the Year. She was chosen as a first-team All-America by Soccer News, Soccer America, the NSCAA and Soccer Buzz as well as being named first-team All-

ACC. She had 41 points on 15 goals and 11 assists.

As a junior, Parlow won the Hermann Trophy and National Player of the Year honors from the Missouri Athletic Club Sports Foundation and Soccer Times magazine. She was Carolina's leading scorer with 44 points, netting 13 goals and notching 18 assists. In the 1997 NCAA Tournament championship game, Parlow scored the game-winning goal in a 2-0 victory over Connecticut. Soccer News, Soccer America, Soccer Buzz, Soccer Times and the NSCAA all selected her as a first-team All-America. She was also selected as first-team All-ACC and the MVP of the ACC Tournament in 1997.

In her senior campaign, Parlow was honored with the Mary Garber Award as Female-Athlete-of-the-Year in the ACC. She tallied 21 goals and had 11 assists for a total of 53 points. She won the Hermann Trophy and was named Player of the Year by the Missouri Athletic Club Foundation, Soccer News and College Soccer Weekly Online. She was named a first-team All-America by the NSCAA, Soccer America, Soccer News, ESPN.com/Soccer Times, Soccer Buzz and College Soccer Weekly Online. The ACC named Parlow its Player of the Year and also selected her as a first-team all-conference player.

She scored 189 points in her UNC career. That equals the seventh highest total in history. She scored 68 goals, which ranks as the seventh highest total. Her 53 assists are also the seventh highest total. In her four seasons at UNC, the Tar Heels went 102-3-1.

Parlow was a starter for the 1999 U.S. World Cup Team which won the gold medal. She played with the U.S. National Team from 1996-2004 and captured two Olympic gold medals and one World Cup title. Parlow had 158 caps with the U.S. National team from 1996-2004. Parlow played for the Atlanta Beat in the WUSA for three seasons from 2001-03.

LORRIE FAIR • 1999 NATIONAL PLAYER OF THE YEAR

While at Carolina, Lorrie Fair was one of the nation's top defenders, winning National Player of the Year honors following the Tar Heels' 1999 NCAA championship season. After a solid freshman year, Fair was one of the nation's most improved players in the country in 1997 and she followed that year of growth with brilliant junior and senior seasons.

After graduating from Carolina, Fair was one of the founding members of the WUSA as an all-star player for the Philadelphia Charge.

Fair's freshman season at Carolina was impressive. Soccer News named her a second-team All-America and a freshman All-America, while Soccer America named her to its freshman All-America Team. Soccer Buzz named her a first-team Freshman All-America. In the postseason, she earned All-Atlantic Coast Conference Tournament and All-NCAA Tournament honors.

Her sophomore season saw her start all 28 games for the Tar Heels, scoring eight goals and notching seven assists for a total of 23 points. Against California and Duke, she recorded game-winning goals. In the national semifinal victory against Santa Clara, she tied the game with an early second-half goal. She was a semifinalist for the Missouri Athletic Club Player of the Year Award and was named first-team All-America by Soccer News, second-team All-America by Soccer Times and third-team All-America by Soccer Buzz. In the 1997 NCAA Tournament, she was an all-tournament selection and she was also a 1997 first-team All-ACC selection.

As a junior in 1998, Fair was a semifinalist for the Missouri Athletic Club's Player of the Year Award while ESPN.com/Soccer Times named her the National Defender of the Year. The NSCAA, Soccer America, Soccer News, ESPN.com/Soccer Times, Soccer Buzz and College Soccer Weekly Online all selected Fair as a first-team All-America. Soccer Buzz honored Fair as the Southeast Region Defensive Player of the Year. She was also a first-team All-ACC selection. Against Wake Forest, she scored two of her five goals on the season and against San Francisco she had three assists. In the ACC Tournament final, she scored a goal versus Clemson.

Despite an injury-plagued season her senior year, Fair still captured the Honda Sports Award for Soccer, given to the top player in college soccer. She also garnered the 1999 ACC Player of the Year award. For the third consecutive year she earned a spot on the first-team All-ACC squad. She was a consensus first-team All-America selection, earning honors from the NSCAA, College Soccer Online, Soccer Times, Soccer Buzz and Soccer America. Fair played on her third NCAA championship team at Carolina and was named defensive MVP in the NCAA College Cup. Fair spent time on the injury list but still played in 22 matches, spending some time at forward during her recovery and moving back to the defense for the stretch run of the season.

Fair already had extensive experience with the U.S. National Team before she excelled as a member of the U.S.'s 1999 World Cup championship team. Fair ended her career with the National Team in 2005. She logged 120 caps with the National Team.

MEREDITH FLORANCE • 2000 NATIONAL PLAYER OF THE YEAR

Meredith Florance was a three-year starter at Carolina and in her senior year she copped National Player of the Year honors. She finished her career in 2000 ranked in a tie for 10th place in career goals at the University with 59 tallies. Florance was one of the top high school players coming out of the prep ranks in 1997 from her hometown of Dallas, Texas.

As a freshman, she played in all 28 games for the Tar Heels. She scored 10 goals and had four assists for 24 points, notching a hat trick in her first-ever home game at Fetzer Field against Tennessee. She also had two goals against St. Mary's and two assists versus NC State. Soccer Buzz named her a third-team Freshman All-America and to the All-Southeast Region Freshman Team.

Starting all 26 games for UNC as a sophomore, Florance scored 10 goals and had 11 assists for 31 points. Versus San Francisco, Maryland and Portland, she netted game-winning goals. The dramatic goal against Portland came in the 150th minute of a quadruple overtime NCAA Tournament semifinal game. Soccer Buzz named her to its third-team All-Southeast Region squad. She also made the All-Tournament Team at the 1998 NCAA College Cup.

Her junior season was tremendous, both for the Tar Heels as a team, and for Florance individually. College Soccer Online named her an honorable mention All-America and Soccer Buzz named her second-team All-Southeast Region. She was named to the NCAA All-Tournament Team after scoring the game-winning goal against Notre Dame in the title game. She was also named second-team All-ACC. She started all 24 games for the Tar Heels that season, scoring 13 goals and serving up nine assists for 35 points. Two of those goals were game-winners, and, ironically, both came against Notre Dame.

As a senior, Florance firmly established herself as one of the best players in the country. She finished fourth in the nation and first in the ACC in goals scored with 26, matching the sixth-highest total in a season for a Tar Heel. She also led the conference in scoring with 60 points. Soccer Times named her the National Player of the Year and she also received the Honda Sports Award for Soccer as the top player in the nation. Florance scored five game-winning goals, and, in the NCAA championship game, she netted a goal that tied the game against UCLA 1-1 with 14:49 to play. UNC eventually went on to win 2-1, claiming its 17th national championship. In the third round of the NCAA Tournament, she scored the game-winner against Virginia and in the quarterfinal match against Connecticut, she scored the first two goals of the game in a 3-0 win.

Florance was a consensus first-team All-America, a first-team All-ACC selection, the Most Valuable Offensive Player of the NCAA College Cup, the Most Valuable Player of the ACC Tournament and the Southeast Region Offensive Player of the Year. Over the course of the season, she was named the MVP of four different tournaments.

CATHERINE REDDICK • 2003 NATIONAL PLAYER OF THE YEAR

Catherine Reddick did not earn her first starting assignment in a Carolina uniform until the final game of her freshman year, which also happened to be the NCAA championship contest against UCLA in 2000. Not only did Reddick score the game-winning goal with 7:41 to play in that game, she was also named the Most Valuable Defensive Player of the NCAA College Cup.

A few months later, April Heinrichs, then the head coach of the U.S. National Team, tapped Reddick for her first National Team cap. From the start, Reddick found herself in the starting lineup on defense. From 2000-2010, she earned 134 caps and 111 starts while scoring 11 goals and passing for 10 assists. Reddick has the 18th most caps and 16th most starts in USWNT history.

Reddick earned starting spots for the U.S. in the 2003 World Cup as well as on the 2004 gold medal-winning U.S. Olympic Team squad. She was a member of the 2007 World Cup Team which earned a bronze medal but she missed the 2008 Olympics because of injury. Injuries limited her to only 11 caps in her last three years on the team (2008-10).

She continued her playing days at Carolina and despite missing much of her junior and senior years because of National Team commitments, Reddick developed into one of the top collegiate defenders in history. She culminated her career by being named the National Player of the Year following the 2003 season as she won the Honda Sports Award for Soccer as well as the Missouri Athletic Club's Hermann Trophy.

After being named a freshman All-America in 2000, Reddick went on to become one of Carolina's most decorated players in history during her final three years. She was a consensus first-team All-America in 2001, 2002 and 2003. In each of those years, she was also named first-team All-ACC.

As a senior, Reddick was limited to playing in only 13 matches because of her commitments to the National team while competing in the World Cup. But still scored six goals and had five assists for 17 points. She scored the game-winning goal in the 2003 ACC Tournament championship game on a penalty kick as the Tar Heels turned back Florida State 3-2. For the second time in her career Reddick was named the Most Valuable Defensive Player of the College Cup as she helped the Tar Heels outscore their six NCAA opponents by a 32-0 margin.

Reddick received first-team All-America accolades following her senior season from Soccer Buzz, Soccer Times, Soccer Post Magazine, College Sports Television, Soccer America and the NSCAA. As a junior, she was named first-team All-America by Soccer Buzz, Soccer America and the NSCAA. As a sophomore she earned first-team All-America honors from Soccer Buzz and Soccer America.

She led the Tar Heels to ACC Tournament championships in each of her four years at Carolina from 2000 through 2003. She played on NCAA championship teams at Carolina in 2000 and 2003.

A native of Birmingham, Ala., Reddick was named a 1999 and 2000 Parade high school All-America in soccer coming out of Briarwood Christian School. She was married to Robert Whitehill on New Year's Eve 2005. She played for the Washington Freedom in Women's Professional Soccer for two years before moving to the Atlanta Beat in 2011.

LINDSAY TARPLEY • 2003 NATIONAL PLAYER OF THE YEAR

The 2003 collegiate National Player of the Year, Lindsay Tarpley had her No. 25 jersey number retired by the University in 2006 after a star-studded career. Despite being injured for half of her junior year and for the start of her senior year, she finished with some of the most impressive career statistics in UNC history.

Tarpley finished her career with 59 goals, 59 assists and 177 points. She ranks 10th in career points in Tar Heel history, is tied for 10th in career goals and is third in career assists.

In 2003, Tarpley led the NCAA in scoring with 73 points, the fourth most in a season in UNC history. She had 23 goals that season, equaling the 11th most in a season in Tar Heel lore, and her 27 assists that year are the third most in a single campaign.

Tarpley ended her career with several school records and an NCAA record to her credit based in large measure on her brilliant play in NCAA Tournament games. She holds UNC career records in NCAA games for goals with 16, assists with 19 and points with 51. The 19 assists are also the NCAA record in that category. In 2003, she set UNC school records for assists in a single NCAA Tournament with 11 and in points with 19.

Tarpley's banner year was 2003 when she led Carolina to a 27-0 record and was a unanimous choice for first-team All-America honors. That season she also earned a quintet of national player of the year accolades, winning honors from Soccer America, Soccer Buzz, Soccer Times, Soccer Post and Sports Illustrated on Campus. In 2003, she became the first player since Mia Hamm in 1993 to be named the ACC Player of the Year and the MVP of the ACC Tournament while also leading the ACC in scoring.

Tarpley was brilliant as a freshman in 2002, being named national freshman of the year by both Soccer Buzz and Soccer America. That year she was named the ACC Freshman of the Year and earned first-team All-ACC accolades. Most impressively, Tarpley won the prestigious award as the U.S. Soccer Chevrolet Young Female Athlete of the Year.

Tarpley has played as a member of the U.S. National Team since 2003. In 125 caps she has scored 32 goals. She won gold medals in the 2004 and 2008 Olympics and a bronze medal in the 2007 World Cup. She earned a spot on the 2011 World Cup Team but had to miss the competition after suffering a torn ACL in late May 2011.

FIFA sponsored the first-ever U19 world championship in 2002 with Tarpley earning the captain's role for the U.S. squad. In sudden death overtime in the championship match, Tarpley pounced on her own rebound to give the U.S. the championship 1-0 in an exciting victory over the host Canadian side.

A native of Kalamazoo, Mich., Tarpley graduated from Portage Central High School in 2002 ranked as the No. 4 recruit in the nation that year by Soccer America. A two-time Parade high school All-America, she was named the national high school player of the year by Parade Magazine in 2002.

Tarpley graduated from UNC in 2006 with a degree in communications. As a senior she was an ESPN The Magazine third-team Academic All-America. Tarpley is married to B.J. Snow, the head women's soccer coach at UCLA.

HEATHER O'REILLY • 2006 NATIONAL PLAYER OF THE YEAR

Heather O'Reilly was the top-ranked recruit in the high school class of 2003 and she was already playing with the U.S. National Team as a high school senior in 2002 while attending East Brunswick (N.J.) High School. The college career of the dynamic forward would lead the Tar Heels to two NCAA championships and three ACC championships. While in the midst of her time at Carolina she scored one of the most important goals in Olympic women's soccer history, sparking the U.S. to the Olympic gold medal in 2004. She would go on and win a second gold medal in 2008. She has played in two World Cups for the United States, winning a bronze medal in 2007 and a silver medal in 2011. She was also named to the U.S. Olympic Team in 2012.

O'Reilly finished her college career tied for 10th in goals at UNC with 59 and she was 11th in points with 167 and 12th in assists with 49. Her career was capped in 2006 when she was named the national player of the year by Soccer America magazine while also claiming the prestigious Honda Sports Award for Soccer. She was also named ESPN The Magazine's National Academic All-America of the Year and she won the Patterson Medal as UNC's outstanding senior female athlete in 2007.

O'Reilly was at her best in leading Carolina to NCAA Championships in 2003 and 2006, both years being named the offensive MVP of the College Cup. She was the unanimous choice as national freshman player of the year in 2003 and then a consensus first-team All-America in her final three seasons.

O'Reilly led the Tar Heels in scoring three straight years from 2004-06 and she was the third-leading scorer on the 2003 team that went 27-0. She had 15 goals, 14 assists and 44 points in NCAA Tournament games in her career.

As she was rehabbing from the broken leg in 2003, she had three goals in the ACC Tournament and then exploded in the NCAA Tournament with an 18-point performance on eight goals and two assists. Those eight goals are the most in UNC history in a single NCAA Tournament.

In the summer of 2004, O'Reilly played with the U.S. National Team in Greece in the hopes of winning an Olympic gold medal. With the U.S. and Germany tied 1-1 in overtime of the semifinal game, O'Reilly blistered the back of the net off a Mia Hamm assist to catapult the Americans into the gold medal match. A few days later the college sophomore possessed an Olympic gold medal after the U.S. beat Brazil in the final match.

In 2006, she led the Tar Heels to 27 straight wins and the national title after UNC lost its season opener to Texas A&M. She was the offensive MVP of the College Cup after scoring four goals and adding six assists in NCAA play. She scored the insurance goal in the 2-0 NCAA semifinal win over UCLA, scored the first goal of the NCAA final against Notre Dame and assisted on the eventual game-winning tally against the Fighting Irish.

Following her senior year she won the NCAA's prestigious Today's Top VIII Award. No Tar Heel student-athlete had won the award since 1984 and it was the crowning jewel of her college career. The award is the highest annually bestowed by the NCAA for athletic prowess, academic achievement and community service.

O'Reilly played for Sky Blue FC of the WPS and led the team to the championship of the league in 2009. Through July 31, 2012, she had 168 caps with the U.S. National Team (tied for 12th) and had scored 34 goals (13th).

Yael Averbuch • 2006 & 2008 NATIONAL PLAYER OF THE YEAR

At the conclusion of the 2008 women's soccer season, senior midfielder Yael Averbuch became the 15th Tar Heel in history to earn the right to have her uniform number retired as a National Player of the Year honoree.

Averbuch was a national player of the year honoree when UNC won the national championship in 2006 and she co-captained the Tar Heel squad in 2008 when it again won the NCAA title.

In four years as a member of the Carolina soccer team, Averbuch helped lead the Tar Heels to two NCAA Championships and four ACC Tournament titles. At the same time, she excelled academically, maintaining a 3.7 grade point average while majoring in psychology.

Averbuch started a school-record 104 games during her career, never missing a game in her four years and starting all but one. She finished her career scoring 32 goals and passing for 29 assists for a total of 93 career points.

Averbuch holds the record for scoring the fastest goal in collegiate women's soccer history. In a game on September 3, 2006 at Yale, Averbuch scored in only four seconds, sending the direct kick at the start of the game 55 yards from midfield directly in the Bulldogs' goal.

A three-time first-team All-America honoree and a three-time All-ACC selection, she was named national player of the year as a sophomore by Soccer Buzz magazine. That same year she was the third highest vote getter for the Missouri Athletic Club's Hermann Trophy presented by the NSCAA. She was also the 2006 ACC Offensive Player of the Year.

In December 2008, she was named a recipient of the NCAA's Today's Top VIII Award, an NCAA honor that each year recognizes eight student-athletes who excel in athletics, academics, leadership and community service. She is only the third Tar Heels athlete to win the award since 1984 and the second UNC women's soccer player to win the honor.

Averbuch was named the 2008 ESPN The Magazine Academic All-America of the Year for women's soccer, recognizing her as the top student-athlete in her sport. She was a first-team ESPN The Magazine Academic All-America in 2008 after being named to the second team in 2007 and the third team in 2006. In 2008, she was also named the National Soccer Coaches Association of America Scholar-Athlete of the Year.

Averbuch was regularly named to the UNC Dean's List, was a three-time selection for the ACC Academic Honor Roll and she was the ACC Scholar-Athlete of the Year for women's soccer in 2007 and again in 2008. She was named to the All-ACC Academic Team each of her four years in a Tar Heel uniform. She was elected to Phi Beta Kappa while also being inducted into the Order of the Golden Fleece.

Averbuch also represented the U.S. as a member of the National Team, earning 16 caps between 2007-11. Beginning in the spring of 2009, she began play for Sky Blue FC of New Jersey in the inaugural season of WPS, winning the championship in the league's inaugural year. In 2011 she played for the Western New York Flash of WPS and won a second league title as a member of that squad.

CASEY NOGUEIRA • 2008 NATIONAL PLAYER OF THE YEAR

The consensus National Player of the Year selection in 2008, Casey Nogueira became the 16th Tar Heel in history to earn player of the year accolades. Nogueira was one of the most prolific goal scorers in ACC history and she scored clutch goals throughout her career in Carolina Blue & White.

As both a junior and senior Nogueira pulled off the incredible double of being named the ACC Tournament Most Valuable Player and the Most Valuable Offensive Player of the NCAA College Cup. She played on Carolina teams which won ACC Tournament championships all four years and captured NCAA titles in 2006, 2008 and 2009.

Nogueira finished her Tar Heel career with 55 goals and 29 assists for 139 points. She was Carolina's leading scorer her final three years in school. Her standout season scoring wise was 2008 when she scored a national best 25 goals and had eight assists for a 58-point total, the most points by a Tar Heel in a season in five years.

Following her junior season she won National Player of the Year accolades from multiple sources including the Honda Sports Award for Soccer and player of the season accolades from Soccer America, Soccer Buzz, Top Drawer Soccer and Soccer News Network. She was the runner-up for the Missouri Athletic Club's Hermann Trophy. In July 2009, she won the Mary Garber Award as the ACC's top female athlete during the 2008-09 school year. She was the first Tar Heel to win the award since Cindy Parlow had captured it 10 years earlier.

Nogueira won first-team All-America honors in 2007 & 2008 and was a second-team All-America as a senior in 2009.

Nogueira, who played her high school soccer at Raleigh's Broughton High School, will go down in history as scoring some of the most important goals in UNC lore. As a freshman, she came off the bench to score the game-winning goal with 6:29 to play in UNC's 2-0 NCAA semifinal victory over UCLA. Two days later, against Notre Dame in the NCAA final, she earned her first career start and she assisted on Heather O'Reilly's goal at 17:57 and then scored the game-winner on a header at 46:28 in the eventual 2-1 Tar Heel win.

En route to winning the 2008 NCAA title, Nogueira was named ACC Offensive Player of the Year and ACC Tournament MVP. In the national championship game against undefeated Notre Dame, the Tar Heels fell behind in the opening minute of play. Nogueira tied the game on a free kick at 51:08 and then she won the game for Carolina with a spectacular goal from the left side with just 2:06 left on the clock.

In her senior year, Nogueira had only six regular-season goals but she exploded in the post season for seven tallies. She scored twice in the ACC Tournament championship game against Florida State while being named MVP. In NCAA play, she recorded game-winning assists in the first round against High Point and in the championship game against Stanford. She scored the game-winner versus Maryland in the third round, had three goals in the quarterfinal win over Wake Forest and again had the game-winner against Notre Dame in the semifinals in the closing minutes.

WHITNEY ENGEN • 2009 NATIONAL PLAYER OF THE YEAR

Whitney Engen's career is the personification of the fact that persistence pays off. The California native was never named to the first-team All-ACC squad until her senior year but that same year she emerged as Carolina's 17th selection as a National Player of the Year when she won the Honda Sports Award for Soccer. Rarely is a defender honored with such an award, particularly when the competition includes the two best forwards in the nation and the country's top midfielder, her own teammate, Tobin Heath.

But such was the fate for Engen who in 2009 was the ACC's Defensive Player of the Year as well as the ACC's Women's Soccer Scholar-Athlete of the Year. She also earned second-team ESPN The Magazine Academic All-America honors in her senior season.

Engen, who played primarily midfield in high school in Rolling Hills Estates, Calif., came to UNC in 2006 as one of the top recruits in the nation but she was somewhat overshadowed at the start by the likes of fellow freshmen Heath, Casey Nogueira and Nikki Washington. It would not stay that way for long. When she arrived at Carolina, UNC had a need at striker and Engen stepped in and played center forward her first two seasons. She had 12 goals and 13 assists for 37 points as a freshman on UNC's 2006 national championship team. No assist was bigger than the one on Casey Nogueira's second half goal, which proved to be the game-winner in Carolina's 2-1 win over Notre Dame. Engen again started as a sophomore in the forward line and had six goals and eight assists.

With the loss of Jessica Maxwell, Robyn Gayle and Ariel Harris off the starting defensive line of the 2007 team, Coach Anson Dorrance looked to Engen to make the switch to center back as a junior and the results were amazing. In her junior and senior years, Carolina won back-to-back ACC Tournament and NCAA Tournament championships, posted 36 shutouts and limited teams to less than half a goal a game over two national championship campaigns.

A four-time All-ACC Academic selection and regular on the UNC Dean's List, Engen finally began to earn the athletic recognition she deserved in 2008 when she was a third-team NSCAA All-America and second-team All-ACC choice.

As a senior everything came together for Engen and she was not only the winner of the Honda Award but also was a first-team All-America choice by the NSCAA and Soccer America. She was named first-team All-ACC, the ACC Defensive Player of the Year and the defensive MVP of the NCAA College Cup. Carolina finished 23-3-1 overall and won its 21st national championship. The Tar Heels pitched 19 shutouts and had strings of seven and eight shutouts during the year. The Tar Heels were third in the nation in goals against average at 0.43 and most impressively they shut out 10 of their last 11 opponents including clean sheets against No. 5 Notre Dame and No. 1 Stanford in the NCAA College Cup.

Engen was selected in the first round of the 2010 WPS draft by the Chicago franchise. In 2011, she played for the Western New York Flash, leading the team to the WPS championship. In 2011, she was elevated to U.S. National Team status for the first time.

CARLA OVERBECK • 1995-2000 U.S. NATIONAL TEAM CAPTAIN

Carla Werden Overbeck is a proven winner. She is one of only three women in history to win an NCAA title, an Olympic gold medal, a World Cup championship and the WUSA Founders Cup championship, joining Tar Heels Tisha Venturini and Mia Hamm in that category.

While she had an outstanding career at Carolina, her level of success playing for the U.S. National Team in international competition became the hallmark of her playing career. As a member of the National Team from 1988-2000, she was the sixth-most capped player in the team's history at the time of her retirement, appearing in 168 games.

Winning has never been foreign to Werden, who played on four Carolina women's teams from 1986-89 that won four NCAA championships. The Tar Heels did not lose a single game during her four-year tenure, compiling a record of 89-0-6 from 1986-89. The NSCAA named her a first-team All-America in both 1987 and 1988 and a second-team All-America in 1989.

She earned first-team All-ACC accolades as a junior and senior.

She was named the Most Valuable Defensive Player of the 1988 NCAA Tournament as the Tar Heels defeated arch-rival NC State 4-1 in the championship game. Her defensive prowess was evidenced by her four appearances on the NCAA All-Tournament team as a Tar Heel defender.

Werden began competing internationally while she was still a Tar Heel. She competed on the 1988 United States Team that won the gold medal at the Goodwill Games in New York. Overbeck was also a member of the 1991 U.S. National Team that won the World Cup in China. She was captain of the 1995 U.S. World Cup squad, which finished third. In 1996, she was captain of the U.S. National Team that won the gold medal at the Olympic Games.

In 1999, she started 22 games for the U.S. National Team, playing 1,764 minutes as she co-captained the United States Team that won the World Cup championship. She converted on the first penalty kick in the U.S.'s victory over China in the World Cup championship match. The U.S. won the penalty kick shootout 5-4 after battling the Chinese to a scoreless tie after 120 minutes of regulation time and overtime.

Overbeck is now in her 22nd year as an assistant coach at Duke University. She also played for the Carolina Courage in the WUSA, leading the team to the Founder's Cup crown in 2002. She was a charter member in the founding of the pro league.

She graduated from the University of North Carolina in 1990 with a Bachelor of Arts degree in psychology. Werden is a native of Dallas, Texas, where she attended Richardson High School. She was born May 9, 1968 in Pasadena, Calif. Her husband, Greg Overbeck, co-owns several restaurants in the Triangle, including Squid's, 411 West and Spanky's in Chapel Hill. They have a 15-year-old son, Jackson, and an nine-year-old daughter, Carson.

Overbeck was inducted into the National Soccer Hall of Fame in 2006 and to the North Carolina Sports Hall of Fame in 2010.

The University of North Carolina women's soccer program is fortunate to call Fetzer Field its home stadium. In its ninth decade of use as a multi-sport facility, Fetzer Field is one of the premier soccer domains in the nation and has been a site where many signature events in UNC athletic history have taken place over the years.

Fetzer was originally built in 1935 with extensive upgrades taking place from 1988-90. The facility has been host to the NCAA Women's College Cup semifinal and final games seven times in the history of the tournament.

A Fetzer Field record crowd of 7,212, at the time the most to ever see a women's collegiate soccer game, watched the No. 1 Tar Heels fall to No. 4 Notre Dame 1-0 in the 1995 NCAA semifinals.

The largest regular-season crowd in Fetzer Field lore witnessed the top-ranked Tar Heels' 5-1 victory over second-ranked Notre Dame on September 13, 1998 as 6,024 fans streamed through the Fetzer Field gates.

Large crowds are a regular part of UNC women's soccer history. Carolina led the NCAA in average home attendance five straight years from 1998-2002. Since the NCAA initially compiled attendance figures in 1998, Carolina has ranked in the top five in average home attendance in all but one season. Carolina ranked second in average home attendance in 2003 and 2004, stood third in the standings in 2005, 2007 and 2009, ranked fourth in 2008, was fifth in 2006 and 2010 and was sixth in 2011.

There is no college team in the country that can compare to UNC when packing a stadium. The Tar Heels played Notre Dame in the NCAA championship game on December 5, 1999 before a crowd of 14,410 in San Jose, Calif. That is the largest crowd in NCAA women's soccer history. On August 25, 2006, the Tar Heels played Texas A&M before a crowd of 8,204 in College Station, Texas. That is the second largest regular-season crowd to ever watch a game in NCAA women's soccer history. Of the top 30 crowds in NCAA history (regular-season and post-season), 22 of those games (73 percent of them) have featured UNC squads in the matchups.

Given the success of the program it comes as no surprise that the Tar Heels have amassed one of the best home records in collegiate sports history. Carolina enters the 2012 season with a record of 308-17-8 at Fetzer Field. In those 333 home games, Carolina has outscored its foes by 1,297 goals. In those games, UNC has scored 1,468 times and its opponents have tallied 171 goals.

Named for former Tar Heel athletic director and track coach Robert Allison Fetzer, the stadium has been the home of Carolinas soccer since 1947, the first year that UNC sponsored a varsity men's team. The women's program was started in 1979 as one of the first varsity women's programs in the nation. Anson Dorrance has been the only head coach of the women's program in that time and only five men have served as the head coach of men's teams in games played at Fetzer Field since 1947.

Located in the heart of the Carolina campus directly adjacent to Carmichael Auditorium on South Road, also referred to as Raleigh Road, the playing field, track and grandstand was completed in 1935 as a Works Project Administration program during the administration of President Franklin D. Roosevelt. In the heart of the Great Depression, the building of Fetzer Field provided a plethora of much needed jobs to Tar Heel natives who were then suffering through economic deprivation.

The facility's renovations over the years have made it one of the most beautiful all-around collegiate venues in the nation. Fetzer Field sits in a natural valley in the center of campus surrounded by Carmichael Arena, the Michael Hooker intramural fields, the Institute of Government, the Eddie Smith Field House, Henry Stadium, the Navy Field football and lacrosse practice fields, Teague and Carmichael dormitories and Kessing Outdoor Pool.

Beginning in 1988 and continuing over a period of two years, the playing field itself was reworked and leveled, the grandstand was refitted with new aluminum bleachers, a new track was installed, lights were added, two ticket booths were added to the front gate, a permanent concession stand was erected and a computer scoreboard/message center was installed.

Large crowds have been the rule at Fetzer Field since the inception of the women's program in 1979. The two largest crowds attended Tar Heel matchups against Notre Dame. The third largest crowd was in attendance for Mia Hamm's collegiate finale when a total of 5,721 fans were on hand at Fetzer Field as Carolina routed George Mason 6-0 in the NCAA title game on November 21, 1993.

Currently Fetzer Field is the home facility for six of Carolina's 28 varsity teams—men's soccer, women's soccer, men's outdoor track and field, women's outdoor track and field, men's lacrosse and women's lacrosse.

The facility has been home not only to women's soccer NCAA championship rounds and ACC Tournaments, but also to ACC Track and Field Championships, the N.C. High School Athletic Association Track and Field Championships, the National Junior Olympics in track and field, men's soccer, men's lacrosse and women's lacrosse ACC Tournaments, men's soc-

The All-Time Fetzer Field Record

Heading into the 2012 season, the University of North Carolina has played 333 games at Fetzer Field since the program began in 1979. In those 333 games, Carolina has posted a record of 308-17-8, a winning percentage of .937. In those 333 games, UNC has outscored its opponents by a 1,468-171 margin.

McCaskill Soccer Center

The McCaskill Soccer Center on the University of North Carolina campus was dedicated in a gala ceremony on April 11, 1999. Attending the event were members of the Educational Foundation as well as other University of North Carolina soccer enthusiasts and donors to the building project. Construction on the 6,600-square-foot soccer facility was completed shortly before its dedication.

The McCaskill Soccer Center is located on the same site as the former soccer offices adjacent to Fetzer Field. The old soccer offices were located in a building called the UNC Soccer Hut that dated back to the original construction in 1935. The new structure honored the McCaskill family, long-time supporters of Tar Heel athletics.

The two-story structure accommodates varsity men's and women's soccer locker rooms on the first floor as well as a common team meeting room between the dressing areas. The second floor houses coaches' offices for both sports as well as a conference room.

Carolina has one of the richest traditions in collegiate soccer, both men and women. The men's team attained varsity status in 1947 under legendary coach Marvin Allen. The Tar Heel men have suffered only one losing season since 1957. Carolina appeared in the NCAA Tournament 18 times in the last 25 years. One of the high water marks for the Tar Heel men's team came in 1987 when UNC claimed the ACC championship and advanced to the NCAA semifinals under the direction of coach Anson Dorrance.

Under the auspices of head coach Elmar Bolowich, the Tar Heel men's team made great strides during the 1999 season, earning the first NCAA bid in five years. The 2000 season was an amazing one for UNC men's soccer as Carolina claimed the ACC championship and advanced to the NCAA Tournament quarterfinals. Carolina went one better in 2001, earning the first NCAA men's soccer championship in school history. UNC also advanced to the NCAA quarterfinals in 2005 and in 2008 the Tar Heels advanced all the way to the NCAA championship game as the tournament's No. 13 seed. In 2009, Carolina made a return to the NCAA College Cup, falling on penalty kicks in the semifinals. The 2010 Tar Heels made it three College Cups in a row, advancing on penalty kicks in the second and third rounds and the NCAA quarterfinals. After Carlos Somoano took over as head coach in 2011, the Tar Heels went on to capture their second NCAA title in school history.

Coach Anson Dorrance's women's teams have comprised one of the most amazing dynasties in college athletics. The Tar Heels have won 21 national championships in the 31 years in which tournaments have been held. The women have an all-time record of 728-44-26. The women have an incredible record of 308-17-8 at Fetzer Field. In 19 of the past 28 years, Carolina has had at least one player chosen National Player of the Year by a soccer organization. Eight Tar Heels were members of the U.S. National Team that won the title at the 1999 Women's World Cup championship and four played on the 2008 Olympic Team which claimed a gold medal.

The destruction of the Old UNC Soccer Hut was carried out in 1997. Construction of the new building commenced following the conclusion of the 1997 season. In the meantime, the soccer offices were housed in temporary facilities at Finley Field, the Tar Heels' practice facility near the University golf course. While the new center has over five times more space than the old facility, the expansion occurred without any loss of parking on campus, always a major concern.

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill Board of Trustees approved the selection of NBBJ Architects of the Research Triangle Park to design the project. Estimated cost of construction was approximately $1.7 million. The project was funded through Athletic Department funds and Educational Foundation gifts. The building was named in honor of Bud and Mildred McCaskill, long-time benefactors of the University.

Together, Fetzer Field and the McCaskill Soccer Center give Carolina two of the best facilities in collegiate soccer.

FIRST and FINEST

An outstanding university in one of the country's top college towns

- The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill was the nation's first state university to open its doors and the only public university to award degrees in the 18th century.

- Now in its third century, UNC offers bachelor's, master's, doctorate and professional degrees in a wide range of fields, including 77 bachelor's, 109 master's, 66 doctorate and six professional degree programs through 14 schools and the College of Arts and Sciences.

- Among UNC's recent rankings:
 - No. 1 for offering the best combination of top-flight academics and affordable costs (Kiplinger's Personal Finance)
 - No. 1 on a list of Best Value Colleges for 2012 (Princeton Review)
 - No. 5 on the list of the nation's top public universities (U.S. News and World Report)
 - No. 8 on a list of Top American Research Universities
 - No. 12 on a list of Best Schools for Entrepreneurs (Entrepreneur Magazine and Princeton Review)

"I like to believe I am an example of what the UNC system is all about – taking small-town kids and giving them worldly exposure so that they can contribute in their communities and wherever opportunities lead them."

President of ESPN, UNC Graduate

CHAPEL HILL

A place to call home

• Often referred to as “The Southern Part of Heaven,” Chapel Hill has been called the perfect college town by several publications, including Sports Illustrated

• Chapel Hill has been ranked the Most Livable Small City (less than 100,000) in America.

• Running along the north edge of campus, Franklin Street is the heart of Chapel Hill. It provides a mix of restaurants, shops and nightlife, and also is the site of the town’s biggest celebrations. UNC fans mob the downtown to celebrate big wins and national titles, and each year Halloween festivities draw thousands of revelers.

• Chapel Hill’s location is ideal, within an easy drive of North Carolina’s beautiful beaches and mountains.

ATHLETIC HERITAGE

Competing for Crowns, Representing UNC with Class

- UNC has won more national championships and more conference championships than any other school in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

- UNC has finished among the top 10 in the Directors' Cup standings 10 times in the past 11 years and 16 times in the 19-year history of the competition.

- Some of the best-known names in sports – such as Michael Jordan and Mia Hamm – wore Carolina blue.

Student-Athlete Services at the University of North Carolina

Advancing Toward Graduation, Building Character, Developing Leadership

Student-Athlete Services at the University of North Carolina encompass three areas that play an integral part in the collegiate experience of the 800 plus student-athletes at the University who compete in 28 varsity sports, making Carolina's program the most extensive in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Those three areas are Academic Development, Student-Athlete Development and Leadership Development.

• ACADEMIC DEVELOPMENT

The Academic Support Program is the main service utilized in advancing UNC student-athletes to graduation. The program assists student-athletes in exploring their interests and abilities, enjoying a broad educational experience, and reaching or exceeding their academic goals.

During the 2011-12 academic year, 290 Carolina student-athletes made the ACC Academic Honor Roll, which requires a cumulative GPA of at least 3.0 for the year. In addition, 124 Carolina student-athletes were named to the fall semester 2011 Dean's List at UNC and another 129 student-athletes made the spring semester 2012 Dean's List.

Fourteen Tar Heel women's soccer players were tapped for the 2011-12 ACC Academic Honor Roll. This cadre of scholar-athletes included Caitlin Ball, Amber Brooks, Rebecca Crabb, Brooke Elby, Adelaide Gay, Bianca Gray, Kelly McFarlane, Barkley Minton, Kat Nigro, Kealia Ohai, Emmalie Pfankuch, Anna Sieloff, Farrell Sweeney, Sarah Thompson, Kristine Welsh-Loveman and Rachel Wood.

Ten UNC players were on the fall 2011 semester Dean's List. They were Caitlin Ball, Amber Brooks, Brooke Elby, Adelaide Gay, Maria Lubrano, Kelly McFarlane, Kealia Ohai, Emmalie Pfankuch, Sarah Thompson and Rachel Wood. Eight Tar Heels garnered Dean's List accolades in the spring semester of 2012. This group included Caitlin Ball, Amber Brooks, Rebecca Crabb, Adelaide Gay, Kelly McFarlane, Kat Nigro, Emmalie Pfankuch and Rachel Wood.

Four UNC players were named to the 2011 All-ACC Academic Team for women's soccer. This group included Amber Brooks, Rebecca Crabb, Adelaide Gay and Kealia Ohai.

Carolina women's soccer players have been on the top of their game in recent years in the academic realm.

Carolina players continued their strong representation on the Capital One Academic All-America Team in the fall of 2011. The team, which is selected by the College Sports Information Directors of America, included junior Adelaide Gay on the first team and junior Amber Brooks on the second team.

The National Soccer Coaches Association of America has named two UNC players as the NSCAA/adidas Women's Collegiate Scholar Athletes of the Year since 2006. Yael Averbuch won the award in 2008 and Heather O'Reilly won in 2006.

Kristi Eveland was the inaugural winner of the Elite 88 award for women's soccer given at the 2009 Women's College Cup in College Station, Texas. The award is presented to the student-

• THE LOUDERMILK CENTER

In April 2011, alumnus R. Charles "Charlie" Loudermilk Sr. made a $7.5 million commitment to fund facilities supporting University of North Carolina student-athletes as part of the Kenan Stadium renovation. The commitment created The Loudermilk Center for Excellence, a 150,000 square-foot facility built on the stadium's east side. The center serves all of Carolina's nearly 800 student-athletes across 28 sports.

"We have a long tradition of academic and athletic excellence at Carolina," said Chancellor Holden Thorp. "We aim to advance that tradition in everything we do. The Loudermilk Center for Excellence attests to that commitment. We're extremely grateful to Charlie, whose support ensures that our student-athletes succeed in their studies as well as their sports."

As part of the Kenan Stadium renovation project, the Loudermilk Center opened in September 2011. The $70 million project was funded by private gifts and premium seating sales.

The Loudermilk Center's largest feature is the Student-Athlete Academic Support Center. This 29,000 square-foot facility provides classrooms for teaching and tutoring, advanced computer technology, a writing lab, reading rooms and office space. It is also home to the Carolina Leadership Academy, which offers leadership training to Carolina student-athletes, coaches and staff.

Also housed in the Loudermilk Center is the strength and conditioning center for Carolina's Olympic sports programs, facilities for men's lacrosse and a visitor's locker room that can be split to host high school football championships. Other features include premium seating for fans watching football games, as well as office and operations space for the department of athletics.

Loudermilk is chairman of Atlanta-based Aaron's Inc. A 1950 UNC graduate, he earned a bachelor's degree in commerce and now serves on the Board of Visitors of UNC Kenan-Flagler Business School.

"I'm thrilled to support my University and this new facility, which will make a positive difference in the lives of future Tar Heel student-athletes," Loudermilk said. "The education I received at Carolina and UNC Kenan-Flagler gave me the background for my success in the business world. I'm happy to give back to the University."

Loudermilk's past support of Carolina includes gifts to fund building space for The Rams Club, UNC's athletic booster organization, as well as $3 million to expand Kenan-Flagler's executive education facilities at the Rizzo Conference Center. His many honors include the William R. Davie Award, the highest recognition given by the UNC Board of Trustees.

letics, the Carolina Leadership Academy develops, challenges and supports student-athletes, coaches and staff in their continual quest to become world class leaders in athletics, academics and life.

The Academy consists of three programs:

CREED Program

Leadership training begins in the freshman year. All leadership begins with personal leadership, therefore freshmen are taught skills to effectively lead themselves.

Training consists of monthly meetings featuring keynote speakers and small group discussion. Upperclass student-athletes serve as peer mentors and discussion leaders. Special focus is on responsibility, accountability, making good choices, ethics and character building.

Rising Stars Program

Designed for a select group of "high potential" sophomores and juniors, the program provides future leaders with insights, strategies and skills necessary to become effective leaders. The program includes monthly meetings, interactive exercises and action learning experiences.

Veteran Leaders Program

This program is designed for team captains and veteran student-athletes. It provides advanced leadership training and support, teaches the critical skills and insights necessary to be effective vocal leaders and provides a strong peer network. Student-athletes meet regularly to learn and reinforce leadership principles and share successes, frustrations and lessons while preparing for a career of significance.

• Carolina CREED

As a University of North Carolina student-athlete, I pledge to make every effort to abide by the Carolina CREED as a show of my commitment to the University, the Department of Athletics, my team and myself.

C - I will know and embrace the tradition and culture of this great University and its athletics department

R - I will respect myself and others

E - I will pursue excellence in my academic work by striving to reach my academic potential while preparing for a career of significance

E - I will excel athletically by committing myself to performance excellence, team success and continual improvement

D - I will develop the capacity to effectively lead myself and others

• SPORTS MEDICINE

The Tar Heels receive excellent care from one of the country's best sports medicine staffs. Dr. Mario Ciocca, Director of Sports Medicine, oversees a comprehensive program designed to keep student-athletes healthy and to rehabilitate any injuries quickly and successfully. Dr. Tom Brickner is the physician who works directly with the women's soccer team while Dr. Alex Creighton is the team's orthopedic surgeon.

A member of the athletic training staff is present at all games and practices to ensure that any injuries receive prompt and proper care. Certified athletic trainer Nicole Fava oversees care for the women's soccer team as the head athletic trainer and she is assisted by graduate students Megan Shipp and Chris Gibson and undergraduate Katie Perry.

equipment at the Loudermilk Center for Excellence as part of the Blue Zone in the east end zone of Kenan Stadium. At the center, students meet with staff to discuss course selection, major and career exploration, academic progress and academic eligibility.

The Academic Support Program helps freshmen transition from high school to college through a variety of academic programs such as academic counseling, individual tutoring, group review sessions and supplemental instruction.

One full-time employee of the Academic Support Program is specifically assigned to work with each team. Susan Maloy serves as the academic advisor for the UNC women's soccer team.

• STUDENT-ATHLETE DEVELOPMENT

Building character in UNC student-athletes is the main charge of Student-Athlete Development.

Through Carolina Outreach, Tar Heels are involved in a variety of projects and organizations on campus and in the community. The UNC Department of Athletics has partnered with Gatorade and the UNC School of Public Health for a national pilot program called Get Kids in Action, in which Tar Heel student-athletes visit local elementary schools to encourage children to exercise. The Carolina Dreams program allows young patients at UNC Children's Hospitals to attend Tar Heel sporting events with UNC student-athletes. Other recent activities have included building a house with Habitat for Humanity, cooking meals at Ronald McDonald House and cleaning up the roadways through the Adopt-a-Highway program.

Student-Athlete Development also seeks to develop student-athletes on a personal level through a variety of speakers who address issues like nutrition, gambling, relationship communication and substance use. Career Development helps UNC student-athletes look beyond college with resources such as career counseling and workshops on resume writing and interviewing skills.

• LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT

The primary outlet for Leadership Development is the Carolina Leadership Academy, started at UNC in 2004. As the nation's premier leadership development program in collegiate ath-

THE RAMS CLUB

HELP PROVIDE THE TAR HEEL EXPERIENCE

The University of North Carolina is an exceptional place. You know it from your time on campus. Maybe it is the bells, or even the Well, or perhaps the stone walls. It most certainly is the people. Whatever factors play into it, the “Tar Heel Experience” is something that all Carolina alumni, students, fans and supporters can deeply appreciate.

Members of The Rams Club provide life changing opportunities for accomplished student-athletes to experience this exceptional place. They provide the resources for them to excel as competitors, students and leaders. By renewing your membership in The Rams Club or by joining as a new member, the Tar Heel Experience remains possible for deserving student-athletes.

MAKE AN IMPACT

Annual Fund

The Rams Club has over 16,000 members who contribute to the Annual Fund. Your annual donation as a member of The Rams Club is vital to helping to cover the immediate funding needs of Carolina Athletics, particularly the cost of providing 450 scholarships annually.

Carolina Forever

Carolina Forever provides an opportunity for donors to leave a lasting legacy and ensure the future of Carolina Athletics. Giving to this program will allow the member substantial tax benefits while also giving generous support to Carolina’s athletic programs.

Scholarship Endowment

Giving to the Scholarship Endowment fund allows donors to provide critical, long-term support for Carolina’s athletic scholarship program. The cost to endow a scholarship is $500,000, payable over 5 years. Its annual yield helps cover the 450 scholarships provided by Carolina Athletics.

Sports Endowments

Each of Carolina’s sports programs has its own endowment which members can contribute toward in addition to their annual fund donation. Sport endowments are integral to Carolina’s commitment to a broad-based athletic program and allow each program to meet its specific needs.

THE TAR HEEL EXPERIENCE ...
YOU PROVIDE THE OPPORTUNITY. THEY LIVE IT.

“Being a Tar Heel means representing the University with the same integrity and passion that so many champions have done before us. It means competing fiercely and leading fearlessly in the hopes of continuing our great legacy. And in the end, being a Tar Heel means my childhood dream has come true. I’m Amber Brooks and I’m a Tar Heel.”
